ELEMENTS YOU PLAN TO TAKE. CIRCLE ALL THAT APPLY

2    3    4                      Cost is $15.00 for taking one, two, or three elements that same day.
Some Technician Examinees try the General and Extra elements just for experience since there is no extra charge if you do it that same day.

The VE test system also allows you to re-take any element over that you fail and try again with second exam package that day. There is an additional $15.00 charge if you decide to do that. Of course if you take any remaining elements you have not passed at a later date, a new charge applies. There is no charge unless you elect to use it on exam day. It just helps with logistics of having enough unique exams.

Yes _____ Do you wish to have a second exam reserved for this situation?

No _____ I will be trying only one time.

The COOKEN club also grants any associate or regular member a full rebate of any VE test fees on tests given by our club PLUS free membership for the remainder of the fiscal year for new hams ( associate members). The process for obtaining the rebate and associate membership can be found on <http://www.cookan.org> By Laws tab.

Yes _____ I am interested in this potential up to $24.00 great deal and want to become an Associate Cooken or Full ( already licensed ) Member effective today. No _____, I want to wait until later and decide about Cooken membership and waive this special offer at this time.

Other exam info:

- Fees are due before the start of testing. No refunds once you register on day of testing.
- Bring two forms of ID including one picture ID.
- Bring full fees ( Cash or Check OK, no plastic )
- Your exam will be graded right after you hand it in.
- You may use a standard calculator, but no cell phones or computers. Element 2 will not have any complex calculations requiring a programmable or even a scientific calculator.
- You will have to place your Social Security Number on the FCC application. It will not be used for anything other than the FCC records and will not be published anywhere.
- The element 2 exam is multiple choice 35 questions from Pool T1-T0 list.
- Decide what you want your permanent mailing address for the FCC is to be.
- Any fee rebates will be granted once you present your license to the Cooken Treasurer.
