Formational Rhythms

March 27, 2022

Transformative churches incorporate personal and communal rhythms into a disciple-making culture. These rhythms include spiritual formation, intentional community, and missional activity... [They] recognize that if they form mission-minded disciples, they build the church. If, however, they aim to build the church, they may not build disciples. threeiverscollaborative.com

We help people become...

We empower people by going where they are and sharing everything that God has entrusted us to share with them. We embrace them as people Christ died and rose to save, and we invite them to be justified and sanctified with us.

Romans 3:23-24 & 10:14-15, Luke 11:46
1 Thessalonians 5:23, Acts 1:8, Mark 2

...fully devoted and equipped...

The Holy Spirit equips Christ's disciples to serve, but transformation requires transformational rhythms.

...followers of Jesus Christ.

We are defined by our devotion to living out all His teachings and commands—and to Christ Himself. This requires a disciple-making culture that drives everything we believe and do.

Colossians 3:12-16, Revelation 17:14

What formational rhythm is God calling YOU to embrace?
