

The Citizens' Chronicle welcomes comments from its readers. However, messages will not be published if:

1. They are, or appear to be, defamatory or libellous.

If you want to be sued, write your own blog.

2. They are racist or homophobic.

If you want to make unpleasant or idiotic remarks, write your own blog.

3. They insult members of my family.

4. They contain profanities.

Mild swearing is acceptable, especially if it is witty. The "F" or "C" words are strictly prohibited. Other swear words permitted at my discretion, depending upon the context.

5. They are off topic.

This blog is published by me and readers have no rights over its editorial policy. If there is a subject which you wish to discuss which is not covered on this blog, feel free to start your own.

All criticisms of me will be published (subject to the above) provided that you do not attempt to hide or disguise your identity. If you have something to say, stand up and be counted. This blog is not for faceless cowards.

Constructive messages are always welcome, whether I agree with you or not. Inane drivel will be ignored.

If you insult me, do not be surprised if I insult you back.

If you want to include a link to your blog or another web site relevant to the discussion, that is fine. Please do not include links to commercial web sites. If you want to advertise on here, you need to pay me!

If you don't like what I write, please remember that it is not compulsory to read it.