

The Feast at the Cornucopia
(fan made)

EXT. CORNUCOPIA- MORNING

Katniss keeps behind the cover of the trees. She spots four bags containing whatever the remaining tributes desperately need.

She takes a DEEP BREATH and prepares to sprint the distance when FOX FACE jumps out of the trees, grabs her bag, and sprints away with no opposition.

Her concentration momentarily broken, Katniss gets it together and SPRINTS out for her marked bag.

INT. PRIM AND KATNISS'S- MORNING

PRIM watches Katniss run. Her hands desperately gripping her dress. GALE places a hand on her shoulder and gives her a reassuring nod.

GALE
She'll be OK.

Prim gives a small almost unnoticeable nod. She redirects her attention to the games.

EXT. CORNUCOPIA- MORNING

Katniss is halfway towards her goal. She pushes herself even further.

Someone else moves swiftly off to the side; unnoticed by Katniss.

Katniss outstretches her hand; ready to grab the bag.

CLOVE appears out of nowhere and TACKLES Katniss to the ground.

Clove smacks Katniss' bow from her hands and draws her knife. Katniss dodges it and shoves Clove off of her. They quickly get up and Katniss throws a punch.

Clove dodges it and hits Katniss in the back forcing her to the ground. Katniss rolls onto her back and blocks Clove's foot from hitting her face.

Katniss kicks Clove's right leg out from under her sending her to the ground. Katniss is back up and tries to run.

Clove grabs her leg and pulls her down.

Katniss kicks Clove in the face and struggles back up.

She gasps as CATO stands in her way and swings down his sword. She ducks his swing and turns to run.

She stops as Clove's knife slices through the air making contact with her cheek.

Cato hands his sword off to Clove and she slashes at Katniss twice. She avoids both strikes and blocks a third; fighting hard to prevent Clove from slashing into her.

Clove knees Katniss in the chest and then BASHES her face into Katniss's.

She hits the ground and Clove steps on her throat to keep Katniss there.

CLOVE

That was fun.

Clove tosses Cato back his sword and pulls out a second knife.

She steps off Katniss's throat, but steps on her right and left arms and then quickly pins her down to the ground before she can attempt to get up.

Clove trails the knife along the edges of Katniss' right cheek and stops near her throat. Katniss locks eyes with her; defiant as ever.

KATNISS

Well what are you waiting for?

CLOVE

Someone has to do outdo your little tracker jacker stunt. Even I have to admit that was pretty cruel for someone from your mud speck you call a district. I hope your sister is watching.

Clove looks up and gives a smirk for the cameras to see.

INT. KATNISS AND PRIM'S HOME-MORNING

Prim is tightly hugging Gale. Unable to look at what is transpiring on screen.

Gale almost looks away as well, but forces himself to keep watching.

EXT. CORNUCOPIA- MORNING

CLOVE

I think we can agree that you did her a favor. At her age she hardly would've lasted longer than your tree hopping ally. What was her name again?

Katniss clenches her teeth and glares angrily.

KATNISS

Her name was Rue.

CLOVE

Well we killed her and now we're going to kill you.

Katniss holds her breath as Clove moves the blade to her heart.

A pair of footsteps move behind Cato and he suddenly collapses to the ground.

Clove turns and THRESH yanks her off of Katniss and shoves her into part of the Cornucopia.

Clove slices at him, but he catches her wrist and violently TWISTS it. She screams and drops the knife. Thresh pins her against the Cornucopia.

THRESH

You killed her!

CLOVE

No! No!

THRESH

You said her name! YOU SAID HER NAME!

CLOVE

NO! C-C-Cato! Cato!

Cato is getting up, but not fast enough.

Thresh slams Clove's face against the Cornucopia twice, then grabs her head and SNAPS her neck in one fluid motion.

Author's Note: OK I don't have a lot of time to fully finish writing this out, so here's what happens after Clove is killed.

Thresh still lets Katniss go and runs off. After that Katniss grabs her bag and starts to go as Cato fully gets up. Seeing Clove dead he goes after Katniss into the forest.

He catches her and they fight. Cato is temporarily defeated when Fox Face returns to provide unexpected aid.

Fox Face states her reason is that if somebody had to die in that fight it shouldn't be one of the only decent people in the games.

Katniss runs off to help Peeta and President Snow watches the footage of her saving him. Haymitch is also present.

Feel free to make any suggestions as to any additions to be made to this as it is rather short.
