

Silly Sentences (animal vocabulary): Correct the semantic error

The farmer fed his lions.	A kangaroo slithered across the desert.
The butterfly made honey in the hive.	The caterpillar caught a fly in the web.
The shark played on the sandy beach.	The lion is king of the desert.
The horse crowed at sunrise.	We cut the wool off the donkey to make a blanket.

Whales migrate north for the winter.	The polar bear licked its nice black fur.
The skunk has long prickly quills.	My leather shoes are made from skunk hide.
The kangaroo carried groceries in her pouch.	Wolves like to squeak at the moon.
The frog got his feathers wet in the pond.	The mother rhinoceros had a little lamb.

We saw a zebra with white and black spots.	A flock of fish flew by.
A giraffe has two bumps on its back.	When the chicks hatched the eggs came out.
That goldfish has big ears.	Did you see the elephants sharpen their claws?
My lizard has soft feathers.	The clam pinched me with its pincers.

Did you see the penguin fly?	The anteater ate frogs for dinner.
That bear has large antlers.	The snail chased the bat and almost caught him.
Lucy saw an octopus taking a walk along the beach.	A swan has a really long snout.
The hippopotamus tiptoed through the barn.	The fish lost some of its feathers.

When turtles are threatened, they crawl outside of their shells.	Don't ever touch a skunk or he will prick you with his quills.
The rabbit was eaten by the carrot.	The ewe gave birth to two foals.
The cat barked at the dog	The seal blew air from its blowhole when it was time to surface.
I rode the seahorse into the ocean.	A large alligator crawled out of the ocean.

We found a large pearl inside the clam.	The elephant picked up peanuts with its fingers.
The bird broke its paw and had trouble standing.	The pig had three puppies in its litter.
An octopus has six arms to capture their prey.	The bear hibernated in his cave all summer.
The duck took her baby chicks to the pond to teach them to swim.	The squirrel caught the bear and won the fight.