

Buddhism in America - 2013

2013 Summer Lecture Series at the Zen Buddhist Temple

"He set forth the Dhamma, good in the beginning, good in the middle, good in the end.."

The Kalama Sutta, AN 3.65

After traveling for more than 2500 years through Asia and now to the rest of the world, Buddhism here in America is changing in some ways and in some ways remaining the same. Explore Buddhism in America, 2013, through the eyes of Buddhist scholars, Buddhist teachers, and Buddhist students. Then join in the discussion!

Panel discussions from 7:30 - 9:00 pm Tuesday July 16 and Tuesday July 23

Panelists include:

7/16

Hsiao Lan Hu, Professor of Religious Studies & Women's and Gender Studies at University of Detroit Mercy and author of "This-Worldly Nibbana"

Koho Vince Anila, Guiding Teacher at Still Point Zen Buddhist Temple in Detroit

7/23

Andrew Antis, Professor of Philosophy at Eastern Michigan University

Sam Ewalt, meditation leader at the Blue Water Community of Mindful Living, Port Huron Michigan and member of Thich Nhat Hanh's Order of Interbeing

And students of Buddhism

Zen Buddhist Temple

1214 Packard Street Ann Arbor MI

734.761-6520 www.zenbuddhisttemple.org

The Public is Welcome.

A $5 donation per session is suggested to support the work of the Temple.