What is Zinio for Libraries?

Zinio for Libraries, the world's largest digital library newsstand, offers full-color, interactive digital magazines. Browse from your library's collection of popular titles with no holds, no checkout periods, and no limit to the number of magazines you can download.

- Current Issues — New issues are often released simultaneously to the print edition or with a slight delay to allow for formatting issues. New issues appear automatically in the library's collection once available and are ready for immediate checkout.
- Easy browsing — Browse your library's collection of titles one at a time, by title, by language or by category.
- Manage your collection — Check out magazines and manage your collection on your library collection site.
- Read Instantly — Read within your library collection on your computer (both PC and Mac.)

Download to Apps — Download checked out magazines to apps for iPad® and Android™, iPhone®, Kindle Fire™/Fire™ HD/HDX.

- No limits — Check out as many issues as you want and keep them in your account indefinitely.

Zinio for Libraries, serviced by RBDigital Gateway from Recorded Books, is the library collection and patron access side of this digital magazine experience.

Who has access to Zinio for Libraries?

Library Collection: Creating an Account/Log In

What is a library collection account?

The library collection account connects you to your local library collection and allows you to check out and read magazines.

How do I create a library collection account?

Go to the library's Zinio Library Collection page. Browse the collection and click on a magazine to check out. Click the "Create an Account" link, enter the required information, and click submit.

When creating the library collection account you will need to enter a user name and an email and password.

You will log into your library collection account with the email and password entered during the account creation step.

You can change your email and password in your personal preferences within the Zinio for Libraries collection site.

Why do I need a library collection account?

A library collection account is required to ensure you are an active member of your local library. The account enables the magazine to be available for check out, lets you check it out at no charge, read it and keep it in your personal collection without having to return the magazine.

I already have another RBdigital Gateway account. Can I use it for logging in to Zinio for Libraries?

Yes, if you already have another RBdigital Gateway–served product account, you can log in as a returning user with the same email and password credentials.

Do I have to log in before checking out a magazine?

No, you'll be prompted to log in during the check-out process.

Searching the Collection

How do I know what is in the magazine collection?

Click the magnifying glass in the Search box, which is located in the upper left side of the browse magazine collection pages. Your library collection will be listed in alphabetical order.

You can also use the Next/Previous tab located on the upper right side of the browse magazine collection pages to view the magazine covers (note the magazines may be presented in thematic order or other order and not in alphabetical order).

How do I search for magazines in alphabetical order?

Click the magnifying glass in the Search box, which is located in the upper left side of the browse magazine collection pages. Your library collection will be listed in alphabetical order.

How do I do a keyword search?

Click into the Search box with the magnifying glass located in the upper left side of the browse magazine collection pages. Type in a word and magazines with that portion of the word will be listed. For example, typing in 'news' will list all magazines with the letters 'news' in the name (i.e. Newsweek, The Hockey News).

How do I do a genre search?

Click the "All Genres" drop-down box located in the upper right side of the browse magazine collection page. Scroll to the desired genre and the available magazines will be listed.

Back issues for magazine are available from the time the library started subscribing to Zinio for Libraries and may be checked out at any time.

To access the back issues, click on the cover of your magazine of choice and the current issue, along with and the four most recent issues will be listed. There will be an additional link in the lower left side under the four most recent issues if additional back issues are available.

Checking Out an Issue

How do I check out a magazine?

Click on the 'checkout now' icon located in the lower right corner of each magazine cover box to immediately checkout the most current magazine issue.

Click on the magazine cover to open the product detail page to get more information on the magazine and/or check out a back issue.

After selecting the check-out button, you'll be prompted to log in (if you aren't already logged in) to complete your check out.

Upon completed checkout, a Success window opens confirming the checkout with additional options to Browse for additional magazines, Start Reading using the streaming Zinio Reader, and select the opt-in notification to be sent an email when the next issue of the publication is available for checkout.

Do I need to be logged in before I check out a magazine?

No, you can log in during the check-out process.

Can I check out more than one magazine at a time?

No. You can check out as many magazines as you like, but you must complete a checkout for each magazine one at a time. You'll have the option to continue browsing when your magazine Success checkout window opens.

How many total magazines can I check out at one time?

You can check out as many magazines as you want — there is no limit. All checked out magazines are displayed in the My Collection link within your library collection. The My Collection link displays after you are logged in.

Is there a time limit for checking out magazines?

No, there is no time limit. Once you check out a magazine, it will remain in your personal My Collection until you delete it.

How do I go from my library collection account to read magazines I checked out?

From the Success check out window select Start Reading and the Zinio Reader will open in a new browser window.

From the My Collection personal account link click on a magazine cover or Read Now icon.

From the mobile device apps, log in with your library collection account and your checked out magazines will appear. Mobile apps require you to have an Internet connection to download the magazine to the device and then may be read offline. NOTE: mobile device apps are READ-ONLY. To check out magazines in a mobile browser, you need to use a supported mobile browser and access your library collection site.

Zinio.com Account (optional): Creating an Account/Log In

What is the Zinio.com account?

The Zinio.com personal reading account is a regular Zinio.com account used by both the library patron and the paying consumer on Zinio.com. It is NOT REQUIRED for a library patron to read magazines in Zinio for Libraries.

The Zinio.com personal reading account is a separate account from your library collection account.

You may use Zinio.com as needed if you have both a library account for your library magazines AND a personal purchase/commercial account for additional content purchased directly from Zinio.com. The two accounts will link together if you use the SAME email address between both accounts.

Why do I need a Zinio.com account to read the magazines?

You DO NOT need a commercial Zinio.com. The Zinio.com personal reading account is a regular Zinio.com account used by both the library patron and the paying consumer on Zinio.com. It is NOT REQUIRED for a library patron to read magazines in Zinio for Libraries.

You may use Zinio.com as needed if you have both a library account for your library magazines AND a personal purchase/commercial account for additional content purchased directly from Zinio.com. The two accounts will link together if you use the SAME email address between both accounts.

Do I need to use the same email address on Zinio.com as I used in the library collection account?

Yes, the same email address is required to connect the library collection account with the Zinio.com account.

Why is Zinio.com asking me to pay for my magazine?

This should not happen, but if it does, the most likely reason is that you signed in from the consumer/commercial login location thinking it is your library collection site.

Your library collection site is not part of Zinio.com and you access the library collection site through your local library website.

My Collection – Within the Library Collection Site

How do I access my checked out magazines in the Library Collection Site?

When you are logged in the My Collection link appears above the Genre and Language search drop down boxes.

You may also go to My Collection link from the Personal Account Drop down located to the right of your log in name on the top of the Library Collection Site page.

Why don't I see the magazine I checked out when I'm logged in?

Your My Collection personal reading account automatically sorts magazines by the newest issues and the magazine you checked out may not be the newest magazine issue by release date in your personal collection.

You can choose to see all your magazines or change the order of the magazines from date order to unread first.

Where are my magazines stored?

Magazines are stored online for streaming, however if you download a magazine via one of the mobile apps, the magazine will then be stored on your device.

How do I read a magazine from My Collection?

Read magazines by selecting the Read Now icon in the lower left of each checked out magazine; or click on the magazine cover image.

How do I check out additional magazines from My Collection?

Check out additional magazines by returning library collection by clicking the Browse Magazine Collection link located above the Genre and Language search drop down boxes.

How do I navigate through the magazine using the Zinio Reader online viewer?

To turn a page, click on the right (or left) side of the magazine viewer page.

To view the entire magazine page spreads, click on the grid view icon on the left of the Zinio Reader Display (the grid view icon is represented by the square icon with nine (9) squares.)

To view the magazine in full screen mode that hides the browser header, click on the full screen icon on the left of the Zinio Reader Display (the full screen icon is represented by the square icon with four arrows.) Press the 'esc' escape key on your keyboard to exit out of full screen mode.

Can I print one or more pages from my checked-out magazine?

Printing is available for most publications, click on the printer icon on the lower left of the Zinio Reader Display.

If a printer icon is no displayed on the Zinio Reader for a selected magazine, print a page or page spread at a time by doing a screen print and copying the page into a Word processor. Scale image to size and print.

Can I post articles to my social media accounts?

To post articles to social media accounts requires doing a screen print and posting the page as a photo.

Is the online viewer ADA compliant?

The site is 508 compliant but not full ADA compliant.

How do I bookmark in the online viewer?

Bookmarking is not available while streaming the magazine in the Zinio Reader; however, you can bookmark when using the apps.

Why am I having trouble viewing my magazines using Safari on my Mac?

Safari browsers require Adobe Flash to be loaded and enabled. If your computer is not displaying the magazine in the Zinio Reader - go to <https://get2.adobe.com/flashplayer/>.

Chrome and Firefox are additional browsers on a Mac that are compatible with the Zinio Reader.

Troubleshooting

Why am I receiving a voucher for the Zinio.com store when I set up my new account through my library?

This may only happen if you activated a commercial Zinio.com account. Library patrons do not need a Zinio.com account as your library collection account links to the Zinio for Libraries Instant Viewer, My Collection personal checked out magazines, the Instant Reader and the mobile apps.

When I click on a magazine on my library's collection page, why am I seeing the message "Sorry. This digital magazine offer or download page cannot be found"?

The magazine may have already been subscribed to (clicked on) from the library's Zinio Collection page.

The magazine will appear on the Zinio.com My Library page. Twelve magazines are displayed per page, with a Next button in the lower right hand corner of the page in small print.

The magazine was previously selected, but was removed from your reading list.

You can access magazines that have been removed from your reading list and add them back on the Zinio.com website. While logged into your account at Zinio.com in the Read tab, select "View Removed" from the drop down list that defaults to "View All Titles". When the list loads, click on the red button to "Edit your reading list!". Click on the + sign over the magazines you would like to add back to your Reading List. Click Done when you are finished.

You can be at the wrong URL to access your library's Zinio Collection page.

Please provide the web address where you select the magazines. You can copy and paste this information from the address bar at the top of your web browser.

I have selected a title that says "Download Zinio For Libraries to Read." What does this mean?

All magazines are compatible for streaming or download (through apps).

If you are receiving this message, submit a help ticket and include a screenshot and the name of the publication.

I'm having problems downloading Zinio For Libraries. What can I do?

In some cases, the local Internet connection may not be providing enough speed/capacity to download the app. Try another connection source and/or try again later.

My Zinio For Libraries app presents me with a blank black screen. Why is this?

There may be a corrupt file that needs to be re-downloaded. Please follow the instructions below to resolve this problem.

1. Close the application.
2. Go to C:\Users\[username]\AppData\Roaming\Adobe\
3. Delete this directory — AIR
4. Reopen the application.

If that does NOT resolve the problem, please try the following:

1. Go to Settings > Control Panel > Add/Remove Programs and remove Zinio For Libraries and Zinio Alert Messenger (if you have that installed)
2. Click Start > Settings > Control Panel -> "Folder Options" (or "Appearance and Personalization")> "Folder Options"
3. Click on the "View" tab. Go down to "Show Hidden Files and Folders" and then click the circle next to "Show Hidden files and folders" to select it and press OK.
4. Delete these folders (you may only have the Zinio Reader folder).

In Vista and Windows 7:

C:\Users\YourWindowsUserName\AppData\Roaming\ZinioReader4.9...

C:\Users\YourWindowsUserName\AppData\Roaming\Application Data\ZinioAlertMessenger9...

In XP:

C:\Documents and Settings\YourWindowsUserName\Application Data\ZinioReader4.9...

C:\Documents and Settings\YourWindowsUserName\Application Data\ZinioAlertMessenger9...

I have downloaded Zinio For Libraries, but the magazine in my reading list still shows the "...requires Zinio For Libraries to view..." tag over the cover. I click on it and it takes me to the download page. Why is this happening when I already have the app?

The browser magazine image is tied to the download link; the app will not automatically open. Access the Zinio app on your computer/device and locate the magazine issue and click on the cover within the app to view.

How do I access my library's magazine collection from the Zinio for Libraries app to check out more titles?

The Zinio for Libraries app is used for downloading and viewing titles and does not link back to your library's Zinio collection.

You cannot check out additional magazines from the app, it is only for reading personal checked-out magazines. Checkouts only occur in your local library online Zinio for Libraries Collection Site.

I am having problems using my Zinio For Libraries app. What do I do?

First, make sure your mobile device is online.

Second, try closing the app and then reopening it.

If this doesn't work, delete the app completely from your device and download again/reinstall.

If you are still experiencing a problem, you will need to contact us.

Please go to the help link on the library collection site and complete/submit the online form.

How do I restore a magazine I deleted to my App?

Go back to your library collection account and re-checkout the magazine.

How do I find the Zinio For Libraries app for my iPad®, Android™ device or Kindle Fire™ HD/HDX?

The Zinio for Libraries mobile app is available for the iPad®, iPhone®, Android™ for free in the corresponding app stores.

The Kindle Fire HD/HDX app is not available through the Kindle App Store. To install the Kindle Fire HD/HDX Zinio for Libraries app click on the direct link located on the footer of the library collection page, magazine detail page, or on the Success checkout screen.

Support

My question isn't in this User Guide or FAQ. What should I do?

Access the help link, click on the appropriate help ticket link, and a friendly support specialist will contact you.

I have forgotten my password. What do I do?

If you have forgotten the password to your library's collection page, please click the "Forgot password?" link below the password box on the login pop-up box. Enter your email address and submit. You will then be sent an email from rbsso@rbdigital.onmicrosoft.com to guide you through the password reset steps.

Note: You must turn off pop-up blocker on your browser.

You will receive an email link which takes you back to the page with a pop-up window asking for a new password and to confirm the new password.

How do I delete my Zinio for Libraries account?

You must contact your Library Information desk and request to completely delete your Zinio for Libraries account.

I want to change my email address used for my Zinio for Libraries account?

You can change your Zinio for Libraries email account in your Personal Account preferences.

Log in with the existing Zinio for Libraries collection account with the existing email and password.

Select the Personal Account icon in the upper right corner of the screen.

Select My Account from the drop down menu

Change your email address.

The changed email address affect your mobile app(s) access, so remember to logout of the mobile app(s) and re-login with the new email address and password.
