

My partner and I are seeking a fun-loving, responsible person to spend time with our seven month old son two mornings per week for two hours each time. This would be ideal for a full time student who needs a break from the classroom, enjoys playing on the floor, being outdoors, going for walks and basking in the presence of a new being ... and could also use a little extra cash! We are able to pay $10/hr.

Ideal times would be Wednesdays and Fridays 9:30am-11:30am at our home near Packard and Jewett, just south of campus, though we can be flexible on exact times and days. Mornings are a great time for Therrien - he's a happy little guy and a joy to be around. You won't typically need to feed or put him down for a nap during this time. We will expect you to take him outside, on a walk/outing, or play with him in the house, giving him your full attention and avoiding unnecessary use of phone/electronics.
