

Greetings from Recorded Books.

In an effort to keep you informed of RBdigital magazine content updates I'd like to share a few important items with you.

First is a list of our most current magazine and comic titles available through the RBdigital platform and app. You can open the attached list by clicking here.

Second is a list of magazines that are no longer available from RBdigital, with the reason and ongoing collection status indicated. It is rare for a magazine or comic to become unavailable and typically results from either discontinued publication or a publisher opting to remove the title(s) from the magazine service. You can open the attached list by clicking here.

Any credits due for magazines or comics that are no longer available in your current subscription term will be processed automatically—you do not need to request the credit.

If you have any questions or wish to add content to your RBdigital collection, please let me know.

Thanks for your continued work with me and Recorded Books.

Sincerely,

XXX
