Appeal to the European Parliament on Global Security

Dear EU President Antonio TAJANI,

Without the proper measures to settle the present general ideological crisis, the latter has been aggravating, bringing new waves of moral degradation, corruption, terrorism, fascism and a more real prospect of a new world war, perhaps a nuclear one. Last year I visited Sweden and for five months tried to gain support for my scientific project aimed essentially at preventing nuclear war from happening. However I suspect that Russian security agents, waging an omnipresent secret war against me, had contracted an agreement with their Swedish counterparts against me, as they did in Israel, and all my efforts to gain support for my mission were paralyzed; it was only thanks to some special social service and the border police in Stockholm, that I could survive and return to Israel.

Last month I submitted my scientific project (<https://kvisit.com/Sxrr1Aw>), aimed at resolving the most pressing global security problems, to Ambassador Wolfgang Ischinger, Chairman of the Munich Security Conference. However, the situation about that project seems suspicious again: no responses, a thorough isolation and a blockade. Well, I do not think the European establishment to be so naive as to hope to achieve social security only by diplomatic and technological measures.

In this connection, taking into account that the matters concerning the global destiny cannot be left to the discretion of one person, organization or a state, whatever respectable they are, would you please take all the necessary measures to break the current blockade about my scientific works, the above project and my mission and provide me with the necessary conditions for their realization, until it is too late.

Yours sincerely,

Igor Makarov, PhD
