Road to World War IV

Failure of the Iran-first doctrine - The assault on Afrin

After the Iranian regime suppressed the December 2017 uprising - though centers of resistance are still active - the Axis wastes no time to take their next step towards regional hegemony. The objective is first to contain US/Israeli interest in Syria, then destabilise and finally - after they have been weakened enough - crush US-allies. Astana was created to establish a new power-center for the Middle East, which will eventually replace the US and its allies. The Axis understands well, that the West is a shabby house of cards. They know well, that they can fool and bribe Western politicians. They know well their red lines are just hollow statements, manufactured by the state-capitalist nomenklatura in batch-production.

The Turkish regime is out of its mind and calls everyone, who doesn't support its aggression on Afrin a terrorist. Turkish security is raiding houses of individuals for single tweets protesting the military aggression in Afrin. According to media reports around 700 citizens have already been detained just for opposing the war on Afrin.<sup>1</sup> AKP internet trolls, Turkish media and pro-Turkey analysts produce non-stop propaganda and spread disinformation. Prominent pro-FSA propagandist Charles Lister - who is regarded by the whole academic-think-tank-world as scholar - exposes closed social media accounts of Kurdish activists to the public, de facto inviting MIT and Turkish fascists world-wide to punish and suppress Kurds, who dare to speak out. The Turkish regime still claims, that there are no civilian casualties in Afrin, while Western politicians support the aggression tacitly by talking non-sense about "legitimate concerns" - newspeak for NATO-Jihad on Kurds.

The grotesque truth is that one of the last not devastated and massacred regions of Syria is being destroyed right now, not by Assad-regime or Hezbollah or Al-Qaida, but by NATO-member Turkey. Not enough, this NATO-member is openly calling for a holy war on Afrin and is propagating Jihad not only in Turkey but also among Turkish diaspora in Europe. According to K24 the head of the Turkish Directorate of Religious Affairs – Diyanet – visited the front and praised Turks for their resolve to "sacrifice" their „very own existence“ for „faith, flag, and homeland“. The "highest level of Jihad", he added, „is the armed struggle“.<sup>2</sup> Diyanet also ordered Turkish mosques to cite aloud the 48th chapter of the Quran - Surah al-Fath (the chapter of Conquest) - every night until victory. German public TV exposed how German children in Turkish mosques were forced to pray for victory of the fascist Turkish regime and the Dutch government started investigations against Turkish mosques in the Netherlands for praising Jihad and spreading war propaganda.<sup>3</sup>

While media and public in the West are critical of AKP-fascism, the nomenklatura is unable to confront the Turkish Jihad-regime because agents of appeasement still sit comfortably in the corridors of power. A NATO-member declaring Jihad and brainwashing Turks in Europe with martyr-propaganda doesn't bother the establishment living in their dumb bubble. Senior officials across the political spectrum in Germany and Austria announce their wish for normalisation with the Anti-Zionist Jihad regime in Ankara. Austrian FM Kneissl, tied to the far-right Freedom Party, - the very same party has declared for years their opposition to political Islam – calls for Austrian-Turkey rapprochement and invites Cavusoglu to meet the Viennese Lipizzan.<sup>4</sup> The biscuit was finally taken by Tillerson, who not only confirmed US approval for the creation of so-called “stabilization areas” in order to resettle refugees – a phrasing that can be easily interpreted as US green-light for the Afrin campaign -, but also declared Turkey and USA were “sharing precisely the same objective” in Syria.<sup>5</sup>

Turkey's objectives in Syria were no secret. Turkish premier Yildirim boasted via all available channels his goal to resettle 350.000 Syrian refugees in the Afrin-region. Despite the fact that hundreds of thousands inhabitants and refugees of the Syrian civil war already live there and Afrin is known to be a Kurdish-majority region since centuries AKP-regime declared to give Afrin back to its “real owners”. Thus publicly announcing plans for a campaign of ethnic cleansing.<sup>6</sup> While main-stream media and politicians try hard to avoid the controversial topic, i.e. talking about Turkish war-crimes, news of Turkish and Jihadist atrocities at Afrin slowly trickle to the public. Haaretz reported of a gruesome video showing Jihadists mocking a dead Kurdish female fighter:

“»Man, she's pretty«, one of the Syrian fighters can be heard saying in the shocking video posted last week on social media. The »pretty Woman« is Barin Kobani. That's not her real name, it's the nom the guerre of the female Kurdish fighter in the People Protection Units, which are trying to stop the Turkish invasion of the city of Afrin in northern Syria. [...] »That' s our revenge against the pigs of the PKK«, says one of the fighters in the video as he takes a selfie with Barin's half-naked and dismembered body. Her bleeding internal organs are exposed, and the men are overcome with happiness.”<sup>7</sup>

Journalists on the ground, SOHR, video and photo evidence confirm mutilation of dead fighters, mistreatment of prisoners and non-Muslim Ezidi Kurds, extrajudicial killing of fighters and civilians. The whole extent of the atrocities is unclear as is the fate of imprisoned YPG/YPJ-fighters.<sup>8</sup> Turkish state agency proudly declared the “neutralization” of more than 3.500 “terrorists”. The conditions for civilians and refugees were worsening day by day. Bombing of infrastructure disrupted water supply for civilians, medical supplies are running out and the NATO-Jihad regime started bombing Afrin hospital.<sup>9</sup> Hundreds of civilians were killed by arbitrary Turkish air-strikes and shelling. Kurds and minorities are also scared because of attacks by Jihadists on civilians. Several propaganda-videos show NATO-partners at Afrin searching for non-Muslim minorities. In one video Jihadists interrogate elderly about the details of Muslim-prayers in order to identify Ezidi-Kurds.<sup>10</sup> Another footage published by SOHR shows NATO-partners threatening to behead non-Muslims.<sup>11</sup> Afrin was one of the last (if not the last) shelters for Ezidi-Kurds in the Middle East. As an ancient non-Muslim minority, conserving remnants of the pre-Islamic Middle East, Ezidi Kurds have always been a target of terror and mass-murder. According to Kurdish journalists more than 20.000 Ezidi-Kurds lived in Afrin. As for now all Ezidi-villages of Afrin were conquered by the NATO-Jihad army. The Ezidi-Kurds escaped into Afrin city, their fate after the retreat of the Kurdish forces is unknown.<sup>12</sup>

While Kurds in Syria are heading towards a genocidal constellation, FSA and pro-Turkey propagandists in the West are omnipresent to point the finger on the sins of the Kurds. In Germany leftists and antifascists are outraged because of attacks by Kurdish militants on Turkish institutions and radical mosques, they probably would also have protested Herschel Grynszpan's attack on Nazi-diplomat Rath in 1938. Lunatic Kyle Orton - former darling of the think-tank-world - is convinced that YPG is damaging Afrin on purpose in order to blame Turkey. Others accuse Kurds of ridiculing Nazi-terror by presenting themselves as victims of genocide. Anyway such efforts are a waste of time. The Western nomenclature is poised to stand by Turkey. As of now it is not absolutely clear whatever reasons these appeasers imagine behind their own decisions. Of course EU trade with Turkey is a big part of it, but I doubt this is a sufficient explanation.

The West has no sense of history, the attacks in Paris, Nice, Berlin, London, Barcelona, and Manchester are forgotten. The West has forgotten how those attacks scared the shit out of us, as civilians, even children, were killed in Europe by ISIS-supporters and commandos. It is known that the commando-attacks were partly coordinated in ISIS-territory, where ISIS trained attackers:

“American military and intelligence analysts are combing through the documents and electronic data recovered in Manbij, hoping to add to their growing knowledge of the rosters of Islamic State fighters and to help identify, locate and attack fighters in Syria and Iraq. In a speech Wednesday at Fort Bragg, N.C., Mr. Carter described Manbij as »a key transit point for external plotters threatening our homelands. And there we're already beginning to gain and exploit intelligence that's helping us map their networks of foreign fighters.«<sup>13</sup>

More than thousand SDF-fighters - most of them Kurds – died fighting ISIS and attacking the terror-centers. The West waited after Kurds and Arab allies liberated and secured the former ISIS-capital Raqqa, then the Turkish regime got green light from Trump-administration, Russia and EU to attack Afrin. Just a few weeks after Kurds had finished the dirty, bloody and lethal work, USA and EU threw them under the bus. Of course these lines don't make sense for the average politician and analyst. For them everything is about Turkish “legitimate security concerns” - newspeak for their collaboration with NATO-Jihad – balancing interests and geostrategy.

“The State Department and Pentagon, meanwhile, reticent to see hemorrhaging U.S.-Turkish ties decline further, split hairs: They explain their support for Syrian Kurds is limited to areas where the YPG (or Syrian Defense Force, of which the YPG is the dominant portion) fights the Islamic State, but that the United States is under no obligation to help the same groups where they live elsewhere in Syria. There are two problems with that sort of hairsplitting: First, while it may pass for sophistication in Washington [☺], no one is fooled in the real world. They see the United States abandoning a partner in time of need. The cynicism this breeds throughout the region can be corrosive.“

The Western genius living in his iPhone-comfort-bubble has finally lost his mind. The Kurds try to save principles of the French Revolution and the West thanks them by sending NATO-beheaders. For the modest thinker it is enough to sit in the conference-hall and listen to great speeches how to counter radical Islam, Iran and bring freedom to the Middle East. Asking how this alleged strategies will be implemented and how things actually develop on the ground already surpasses the West's cognitive horizon. The fact that nations, parties and movements in the Middle-East, who support freedom and the West, and oppose Sunni and Shia Jihad, are constantly led down by the West and left to the mercy of death-squads doesn't bother the wicked geostrategist. So the propagandists keep on calling to the people of the Middle East to stand with the West, to stand with Israel against Iran, against radical Islam, against ISIS, while the Jihadist NATO-member throws the corpses of killed Kurdish fighters in the trenches.<sup>14</sup> Experts mind.

The aim of Russia and Iran is to force Syrian Kurds to acknowledge their rule and to obey. Therefore the Russians handed the Syrian Kurds an ultimatum to disarm and give Syrian regime full control of Afrin or face Turkish jihadists. FSA-propagandists in the USA and Europe have told us for years, that PYD/YPG is under direct command of Assad and Iran, but contrary to the Kirkuk-crisis Syrian Kurds have made no deal with the Iranian axis. Therefore they got punished via Turkey. This will drive a wedge between the West and the Kurds and so they will be neutralized as a pro-Western force step by step with support of the mentally corrupt West.

Of course, Turkey won't stop at Afrin. In the near future it might attack Manbij and later even Qamishlo, Sinjar and Qandil. Thanks to Trump-administration, Russia and EU AKP-fascism is now in a good position to challenge Israel regarding the Jerusalem embassy move. Shadows of an escalation in summer 2018 can already be seen. Erdogan, not Iran, will lead the Anti-Zionist campaign, though Iran may follow. The overwhelming majority of Israeli Jews support the Kurds and despise the Turkish regime, but it seems the Israeli government didn't much to help the Kurds. Iran won again: strategic Afrin conquered by Anti-Zionist Sunni regime, Ghouta will soon be in hand of Assad, another strategic blow to Kurds against a downed drone and some shattered batteries. Afrin is part of the Anti-Zionist project as was Kirkuk. The leaders of the Anti-Iran camp(s) and their petty plans will end in the dustbin of history.
