

Internet Culture and Radicalisation

The Manufacture of Hate in the Digital Age

Extremists Are Early Adopters of Technology

The Goal

To bring about political and/or societal change

Strategies

Meta-political

- Influencing elections and pressuring existing governments via (dis)information operations, campaigns or protests

Militant

- Orchestrating or inspiring acts of violence and terrorism

Tactics

- Radicalisation campaigns → sympathisers
- Influencer campaigns → "normies"
- Intimidation campaigns → opponents

Radicalising Digital Natives: Strategies and Tactics

Activities to mainstream fringe ideologies and radicalise young audiences include:

The Creation of Extremist Echo Chambers

- Emerging alt-tech platforms and tools create self-radicalizing filter bubbles
- Hyper-targeted campaigns are used to exploit grievances of vulnerable sub-groups

Opportunistic Coalition Building

- Cross-border collaboration leads to global echo chambers
- Cross-ideological collaboration is used to increase the reach of campaigns

The Weaponisation of Youth Culture

- Gamification is used to reach Generation Z
 - Humour and transgression are employed to mainstream fringe ideologies

Extremist Echo Chambers: Alt-Social Media Platforms

The screenshot displays the MINDS social media platform interface. At the top, there is a search bar and a 'BOOST' button. The main content area is a grid of user profiles, each with a profile picture, name, handle, and statistics for subscribers, subscriptions, and views. The profiles include:

- Sargon of Akkad (@Sargon_of_Akkad) with 88,372 subscribers, 47 subscriptions, and 4,386,148 views.
- TRUTH Truth? with 71,657 subscribers, 3,587 subscriptions, and 1,220,932 views.
- Bill Ottman (@ottman) with 69,047 subscribers, 20,957 subscriptions, and 1,144 views.
- COMPUTER Cullen (@DaveCullen) with 74,063 subscribers, 33 subscriptions, and 5,617,823 views.
- WAR WITH TRUMP with 65,569 subscribers, 5 subscriptions, and 2,173,567 views.
- InfoWars (@InfoWars) with 61,381 subscribers and 8 subscriptions.
- Mark (@mark) with 74,063 subscribers, 33 subscriptions, and 5,617,823 views.
- of the Absence Stefan Molyneux (@StefanMolyneux) with 65,569 subscribers, 5 subscriptions, and 2,173,567 views.
- Independent (@Independen) with 61,381 subscribers and 8 subscriptions.

Below the grid is a navigation bar with 'Home', 'TV', 'Popular', and 'Messages'. Under 'LIVE TOPICS', there are categories like 'False Tsunami Alert', 'Government Shutdown 2.0', 'Illegal Immigration', 'Gab Creatives', 'Gab Polls', and 'Bitcoin'. A post by Andrew Anglin (@AndrewAnglin) is visible, dated 30 minutes ago. The post text reads:

The Jewish problem becoming a thing at the same time that western man managed to create a population indicates that reaching a state of static peace and comfort is not something that Go do.

Existence must be defined by conflict.

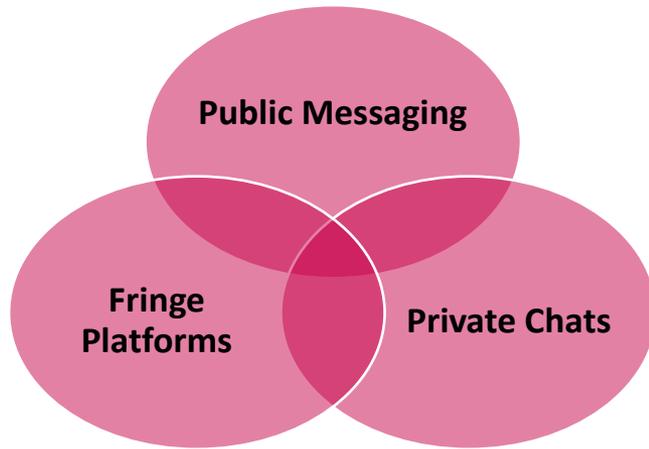

This is why I advocate the eternal crusade.

On the right side of the screenshot, there is a large image of the Earth with the text 'YOUR SOCIAL NETWORK' and 'WELCOME JENMALO92' overlaid.

Extremist Echo Chambers: “WASP Love” and Alt-Dating Platforms

The image shows a screenshot of a Facebook group page. The background is a black and white photograph of a bride and groom. The text "WASP Love" is overlaid in a white, stylized font, with a white heart icon below it. Below the title, the text reads: "Dating - Reformed Christian, Quiverfull, Confederate, Homeschooled, Christian Identity, white nationalism, alright, Sovereign Grace Singles". A "See More" button is visible. On the right side, there is a "Join this group to see the discussion, post and comment." button with a green "+ Join group" button next to it. Below this, the group name is "Alt Right Singles (Seeking Marriage) w/ Tara McCarthy" and it is marked as a "Closed group". There are shortcuts listed: "HY435 alumni group", "Chris & Dani Tango Les...", and "Debate and Progr...". The "Admins" section lists "Tara McCarthy". The "Other members" section lists 20 members with their profile pictures and names: Ariel Roberson, Lidia Baldini, Sara Maher, Greg Stevens, Simon Nodox, Nathaniel Menefee, Steven Griffinite, Jimmy Johns, Samuel Culper, Andre Arered, Michael Chrisman, Mark Stokes, Dylan Parents, Carter Sol, Iesu Christi, Anthony Mix, Steven Devin, Joe Crook, CJRhd Morgan, Adrian Pikios, Mick Davegan, Steve Donoghue, Zachary Ky Murphy, and Jono Millsy.

Handbuch für Medienguerrillas Informationskrieg-Manual V 4.0

Wir befinden uns im Krieg, im Informationskrieg. Die Eliten haben sich gegen uns verschworen und setzen alle Mittel dran, ein Meinungsdictat zu errichten und uns stumm zu schalten. Doch wir lassen uns den Mund nicht verbieten. Der Widerstand gegen Zensur und Gleichschaltung formiert sich. Hier ein Guide, wie Du Teil des Widerstands gegen den globalistischen Eroberungskrieg werden kannst.

1. Der Informationsnexus

Zur Planung, Entwicklung und einfach nur zum Austausch und zur Vernetzung gibt es eine Discord-Gruppe: <https://discord.gg/vw5KDXK>

2. Elektronische Armeen

Um den Informationskrieg führen zu können, brauchst Du erstmal Truppen. Im Informationskrieg bist Du der Offizier, Deine Accounts sind Deine Unteroffiziere und die Follower sind Deine Soldaten. Je mehr Account-Unteroffiziere und Follower-Soldaten Du hast, desto mehr Power hast Du auf dem virtuellen Schlachtfeld.

Lege Dir mehrere Accounts auf Twitter an. Mindestens 2-3. Gestalte sie ein bisschen individuell und interagier schon mal ein bisschen. Frische Accounts sind erstmal „shadowbanned“. Du brauchst ein paar Follower und ein bisschen Aktivität. Likes, Retweets, damit die Tweets indiziert werden und bei den Trends reinzählen. Interagiere auch mit Deinem Hauptaccount mit den Zweitaccounts, um diese aufzuwerten. Folge und retweete Deine Mitstreiter. Und Versuch Follower zu farmen. Ein Account mit 1000 Followern ist besser, als zehn mit hundert. Mit dem Farmen von Followern kannst Du Deinen Account leveln:

Military vocabulary and structures: Use of use of “electronic armies” and “cyber jihadists” to conduct “missions” in the “virtual battlefield”

Memes and Jokes: The use of memes and jokes to camouflage and mainstream extremist ideologies

Doxxing, Trolling and Threats

>sway enough people to their side.

This isn't the main issue. The main issue are that they deliver legitimation to parliamentarian committees and policy writers who then sell that shit to uniformed specialized issue puppets to vote on it and make it law. Really, in some way they are right about the Isis narrative - it is easier and more effective to kill the wife and kids of a soldier, then the Chief commander. It is ironically that they themselves drove swim there. Their loved once must pay the price of their betrayal.

>The whole abstract narrative really threw me for a loop. I
It is TED, in the audience no one gets it and I kind of think

Hey ISD: I'll give you a pro-tip for my 'psychological driver.'
I want every one of you dead and I don't care how it happens.

How can we respond?

Twitter bans 270,000 accounts for 'promoting terrorism'

Facebook removed 14 million pieces of terrorist content this year, and the numbers are rising

Devin Coldewey @techcrunch / 4 days ago

 Comment

YouTube announces it has removed 8.3m videos from website

Google-owned group responds to backlash over inappropriate content

Removal can never be the whole response.

We must build the machinery to compete.

1) Proprietary Tech Tools

Delivering most sophisticated audience and sentiment analysis in counter-extremism

2) Targeted distribution and amplification of campaigns

*Reached 15 million to date
- and 6 million 'at risk' users
Training/Innovation Labs for 500 NGOs/youth groups*

3) Direct Interventions with Violent Extremists

Direct Interventions with Violent Extremists
- Identified over 40,000 violent extremists
- Performed 1000+ direct interventions

Thank you.
