

Congratulations to Our FY23 Q1 Recharge Award Recipients

The PS Recharge awards are quarterly awards that recognize impactful contributions in advancing innovation, rebuilding demand and execution engines and simplifying our complex work environments. Yesterday Alex Cho announced the first ever PS Recharge Award winners during the PS All Employee Meeting, live from the PS Unleashed event in Denver. Please join me in congratulating the following winners from ACS:

Fred Thomas: Innovation: Fred has taken a significant role to nurture innovation throughout ACS, while stretching his reach to the broader HP with multiple contributions to the IPVC blog. In his journey, Fred has encountered numerous unconventional problems, and consistently identifies unique, out of the box options for resolving them. Many times, the issues that Fred comes up against are resolved by cleverly applying novel materials from adjacent industries.
