Our History

- The Diaper Bank movement began in 1994 when a small consulting firm decided to give back to their local community during the holiday season. Resolve Inc., located in Tucson, Arizona, began their philanthropic endeavor by collecting diapers for a local crisis nursery
- In 2000, the Community Diaper Bank of Southern Arizona became a free standing charitable organization, becoming the nation's first Diaper Bank. Today there are more than 250 diaper banks located across the country.
- The mission of the Diaper Bank is to provide diapers to those living under the poverty line where no public assistance exists. In 2013, the Diaper Bank distributed more than 742,000 diapers and incontinence supply items to more than 15,000 babies, toddlers, disabled youth and adults, and senior citizens in 10 Southern Arizona counties. Over the past 20 years, the Diaper Bank has distributed more than 8.5 million diapers and incontinence supplies throughout Southern Arizona.
- In the coming years, the Diaper Bank of Southern Arizona plans to meet 100 % of the local need for diapers, but we need your help reach that goal.

What is Diaper Need?

- Each year, the Diaper Bank receives requests for more than 1.5 million diapers, but is only able to collect and distribute 43% of those requests due to its limited financial resources.
- Regardless of age or size, 6-10 diapers are needed daily (around $100 per month).
- Public assistance is limited. Food assistance programs such as food stamps and WIC focus solely on food and nutrition, and do not cover diapers.
- 1 in 3 parents in America struggle to meet diaper needs. They often cut back on food, utilities, and other necessities to provide diapers for their babies.
- 1 in 3 babies is born into poverty in Pima County.
- 25 percent of diapers collected and distributed by the Diaper Bank are for adult incontinence needs.

"I am so thankful for being able to get diapers. It has helped a lot because sometimes I would have to choose between getting diapers or much less food at the grocery store. - Adelina
