

Communication in Serious Illness

June 30, 2018

9:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.

Canyon Vista Medical Center

5700 AZ-90

Sierra Vista, AZ 85635

Target audience is healthcare teams such as physicians, nurses, social workers and other healthcare providers.

This 2.5-hour didactic session objective is to review the need for a systematic approach to having more, better and earlier conversations about patient values and priorities in serious illness; define a population with serious illness who may benefit from the serious illness conversation and learn how to improve communication with patients who have a serious illness with a structured communication tool. During this highly interactive workshop participants will have the opportunity to practice case study conversations.

Registration is free, but space is limited. Register here.
