

Ratings driven breaking news

Any news wherein a news organization cherry-pick stories and events in hopes of driving up a POOR ratings score. Incidentally, “breaking news” plays an important role toward optimistically affecting ratings for America’s news industry, but often Ratings driven breaking news can be downright overrated according to many people who consumes the news.

Author: John C. Sudds

3/2/2019