

Unadulterated news

Any news that's unedited and presented in a raw state. Unadulterated news can often be visually graphic, unsettling with respect to any images shown, hence the term "unadulterated." For reasons particularly unique to "America's" news industry, as well as any government agencies concerned, graphic images are often processed in accordance with photojournalism ethics.

Author: John C. Sudds

3/2/2019