Let the sky roar & maketh all that witness it wonder what causeth such devastation. Lastly, I also command that you do all of the aforementioned without causing harm whatsoever to anyone or anything; do not damage infrastructure or injure anyone & especially do not damage my property and all that belongeth to me, or cause any inconvenience relating unto my properties. Let the tempest you causeth by my command of epic magnitude be one of bravado, so for pure show and amazement so that those that witnesseth this may be in utmost Awe and simultaneously Tremble at your power. Amen.
