" I, Morino Ravenberg- Supreme Magus, hereby humbly ask & simultaneously command you by Father's almighty and supreme Will as is everything in existence, including existence itself to do as you specialize- bring about rain, as much as possible & as intensely as possible. Let it pour down upon the earth like no other, only to stop when I officially give the command regardless of how that may be. You are to do all of this while adhering to the following rules: Do NOT, I repeat; do NOT "touch" me or come into contact with me both spiritually, physically or otherwise, in any way possible whatsoever regarding energetic flow and input/output. You are to work in a wholly & fully independent manner or fashion, without having your energy flow through Me the likes of which I described before. Also see to it that you do not cause ANY NEGATIVE CHANGES OR SIDE-EFFECTS to my life whatsoever, in ANY WAY possible, imaginable or otherwise; not in my occult life, personal life and/or otherwise. None Whatsoever. Do as I politely ask and at the same time command under the specified conditions, by Father's almighty and supreme Will as is everything in existence, including existence itself. Amen.
