Blood Flow Support Xtra: a powerful supplement

For who:

Are you one of those people who are becoming increasingly tired? Do you find it more difficult to recover from a "mild flu"? Or do you have heart and circulatory problems, chest pressure, dizziness or shortness of breath, or do you suffer from swollen legs, numb limbs, cold hands and feet, or do you find it difficult to get going or are you sometimes listless or even depressed?

There is a good chance that you are suffering from poor circulation and a resulting shortage of oxygen (fuel) and "life energy" (Chi, prana).

Reason for slowed blood circulation:

Especially since the global implementation from 2020 of the 5G network, which has similar frequencies to our microwave ovens, humans, animals, plants and soil are 'drying out' more and more.

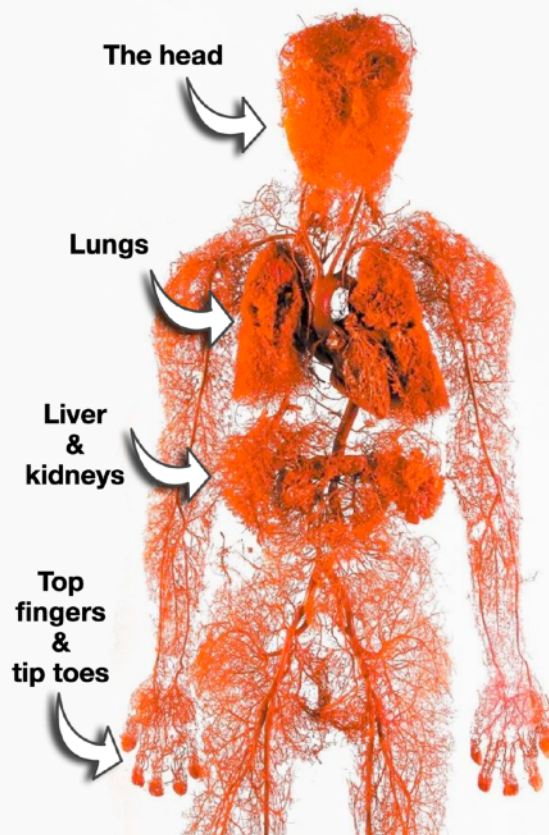

As a result, both young and old suffer from sluggish circulation. The resulting "clogged" blood causes stagnation particularly in the finest blood vessels, namely the capillaries. The picture on the right clearly shows which places these are. This explains the increase in the above-mentioned list of vitality undermining symptoms.

How do I activate my blood circulation?

To naturally restart circulation, Blood Flow Support has been developed 'in private', from people for people. Blood Flow Support(BFS) for revitalising and Blood Flow Support Xtra (BFS Xtra) for repairing & strengthening blood vessels & dissolving 'blood clots'. The Xtra contains activating & stimulating ingredients so you use BFS Xtra in the morning & afternoon & BFS in the evening for proper flow, increased oxygen uptake & available life energy.

Concentration of the finest capillaries in the body are in:

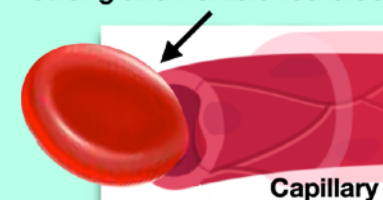

There are different diameters of our transport vessels

Artery		Size 4,0 mm
Red blood cell		7-8 µm (micron) & 2 µm thick
Capillary		A capillary is 5 to 10 times thinner than a hair of 5 - 10 µm in diameter
Alveoli of the lungs		Size is 3 µm

For a red blood cell to pass through a capillary and especially through the alveoli (lungs), the red blood cell must be able to fold. This requires properly flowing blood and a strong and flexible red blood cell.

The better results:

For the better results, the suggestion is to use Deep Cleanse Energy Boost in addition to Blood Flow Support Xtra. The optimal vitality approach is achieved with theme package C. For more information, see Forever-Vital.com. Here you will find who the theme package is for, expected results, intake schedule & Energy Exchange, among others.

Point of attention:

For people taking certain medications, the suggestion is for a very spaced out intake and slow build-up and have regular check-ups to see if the medication use deserved adjustment. It has happened that vitality was so upgraded that one could stop taking medicines.
