

Cell Protect Super Mag, the body & mind's natural EMF protection & regeneration activator

Why Cell Protect Super Mag?

This super concentrated liquid frequency amplified Magnesium blend is highly absorbable and involved in over 3,600 chemical processes in the body. Including the support of various enzymatic antioxidants for reducing inflammation and for ATP formation in mitochondria for improved energy metabolism. Because Magnesium is the 'master mineral', it is for young and old alike. After any training, work-out or (mental) stressful situation, take your Cell Protect to recover and or calm down super fast. Chances are you'll be back in full force.

Enzymes play a vital role in our body and they help speed up chemical reactions that take place in almost all cells. Enzymatic antioxidants are produced by the body itself and need magnesium to provide more energy. This power supplement supports the body to neutralise free radicals, (harmful particles), and counter oxidative stress (is imbalance of oxygen in the body) due to cell damage. Prolonged exposure to EMF radiation causes both oxidative stress and cell damage, which accelerates the ageing process of body and brain cells. In addition, this power supplement acts as a natural calcium channel blocker to protect cells and blood vessels.

How does Cell Protect Super Mag work?

Besides preventing cell damage and improving energy production, Cell Protect Super Mag regulates neurotransmitters, the chemical messengers in the brain that influence our mood and stress response. As a result, it enables us to redirect our fight-and-flight responses to a more calm, relaxed state. This state is a prerequisite for regeneration of the body, especially at night during sleep.

The anti-stress effect on muscles and cells of Cell Protect Super Mag is essential for those struggling with poor sleep quality or reduced immunity due to stress and exposure to EMF radiation. It is also for those who suffer from muscle cramps, stiff joints, brittle bones, being easily out of breath, heart rhythm disturbances (during the night) and inflammation, among others.

Cell Protect Super Mag is especially designed to prevent calcium from hardening cell membranes, preventing the cell from excreting its toxins and absorbing nutrients. As a result, poisoning can damage the cell and even cause it to die. To protect cell membranes from artificial electro magnetic fields such as EMF radiation (similar to microwave frequency), the body extracts calcium from the fluid around cells, causing deficiencies in bone structures such as joints and teeth. The rapidly absorbable magnesium in Cell Protect Super Mag ensures flexibility and vitality of cells, including brain cells, reducing the risk of Alzheimer's, Dementia and Parkinson's disease. Cell Protect Super Mag together with Deep Sleep relaxes & reduces the constant flow of thoughts. Something many people struggle with due to the 24/7 information flow we are consciously or unconsciously bombarded with these days.

Intake suggestion from an adult (>12y)

2x daily 5ml in glass of filtered water, 1x early in the morning and 1x just before going to bed. Given its natural calming effect, the suggestion is also to take a dose after a workout or a (mental) stress situation. If your 'magnesium burning rate' is high, there is no reason to take an extra portion to feel better, and reduce discomforts.

Extra suggestion: after Cell Protect, take the Deep Sleep and lastly the SoLi Alkaline (or Electrolyte Balance) before going to bed for deeper sleep & overall regeneration of body & mind.
