Family Gratitude

In our time of sorrow, your love has been a light. Every call, every visit, every prayer, and every kind word has lifted our spirits and reminded us that we do not walk this road alone. We are truly grateful for the support of family, friends, and community who have surrounded us with care. May God bless you and keep you, as you have blessed us.

With heartfelt thanks, The Fogg Family

Acknowledgment to the Church

Your guidance and compassion have been a source of strength, and we are forever thankful for the role you have played in helping us honor London's life.

Forever In Our Hearts

We miss the sound of your laughter, the light you brought each day. Though you have gone before us, your love has not gone away. The songs you sang still linger, the stories you shared remain, In every smile, in every tear, we feel your joy, your name. God called you home too early, yet in His arms you rest. And in our hearts you'll live on, our beloved, our very best. So until we meet in Heaven, when sorrow turns to song, We'll carry your love within us forever, our Lo, so strong.

Obituary

Born at Prince George's Hospital in Maryland, London was the beloved son of the late Rita E. Fogg and Julius W. Fogg. He graduated high school in 1997 and began his career at Giant Food, where he spent over a decade moving from bagging groceries to the produce department. In October 2006, London joined Communication Services, Inc., where he worked faithfully for 19 years as a repair service clerk.

London's passions were as vibrant as his personality. A proud founding member of the Loading Snacks Crew: a circle of best friends formed nearly two decades ago.

He found joy in community, laughter, and shared adventures. He was a devoted fan of gaming, anime, and wrestling, and his voice often filled rooms with song, dance, and his contagious energy.

Above all, London was a man who loved deeply. His family and friends knew him as sweet, goofy, loyal, and kind - a soul who gave love freely and made everyone feel seen and valued.

Preceded in death by his sister, Tania, London's life was a gift to all who knew him. He leaves behind cherished memories that will forever live on in the hearts of his father, Julius W. Fogg; his brother Zharrin C. Fogg; aunts, uncles, his nieces and nephews and a host of cousins; God children, his Loading Snacks family; and countless friends and family members whose lives he touched with his laughter, warmth, and spirit.

Though London's journey ended far too soon, his legacy of love, humor, and joy will continue to shine in every story told, every song sung, and every heart that carries him forward.
