▲ Urgent Notice: You still owe a balance due for tax year 2022

Amount due: $976.86

We're sending you this notice to explain the amount you still owe for your 2022 Form 1040 taxes. You must pay the amount due by June 9, 2025 to prevent interest and applicable penalties from continuing to increase.

What you need to do immediately

Pay your balance online now. Pay as much as you can now by visiting IRS.gov/Payments on a computer or mobile device. It's fast, secure, and you'll receive instant confirmation of your payment.

- Pay online directly from your bank account.
- Pay with your credit card, debit card, or digital wallet.
- Apply for a payment plan.

If you can't make a payment online, you can mail us a check or money order using the payment stub at the end of this notice.

See section below if you can't pay your full balance right now.

Consequences if you ignore this notice

We've contacted you several times about your overdue 2022 taxes. If we don't hear from you by June 9, 2025, we'll assume you agree with the information in this notice and will consider your noncompliance an active choice.

- We may transfer your overdue tax account to a private collection agency.
- We can file a Notice of Federal Tax Lien (NFTL) notifying your creditors we have a claim against your property, subject to any applicable Collection Due Process rights.
- The U.S. Department of State may revoke your passport or decline to issue or renew a passport if you are certified as having seriously delinquent tax debt.
- Your future tax refunds may be offset.

Every day you put off paying, increased interest and penalties (as applicable) are added to your bill.
