The coming beast power was prophesied in the 13th, 17th and 19th chapters of the scriptural book of Revelation nearly two thousand years ago. This prophecy parallels another, more ancient, prophecy concerning the same individual and ruling power in the scriptural book of Daniel. There we read that this is a ruler ("king") who:

"...will do as he pleases. He will exalt and magnify himself above every mighty one and will say unheard of things against the Almighty One of mighty ones. He will be successful until the time of wrath is completed, for what has been determined must take place.

"He will show no regard for the mighty ones of his fathers or for the one desired by women, nor will he regard any mighty one, but will exalt himself above them all. Instead of them he will honor a mighty one of fortresses; a mighty one unknown to his fathers he will honor with gold and silver, and precious stones and costly gifts.

"He will attack the mightiest fortresses with the help of a foreign mighty one and will greatly honor those who acknowledge him. He will make them rulers over many people and will distribute the land at a price" (Daniel 11:36-39).

Several things are apparent here, which inform us about the sort of government the beast will rule over.

First, it is apparent that no law now existing in relation to property rights will be honored under such a ruler. For that to happen, anywhere on earth today, such laws must be suspended, along with the civil or legal authorities who administer them.

Secondly, it is also apparent that no military power (ostensibly represented by the term fortresses, or forts in the modern vernacular; but more about another, more modern meaning and intent of this prophetic metaphor can be revealing) will be safe from attack, in that the rulers of entire countries will be brought down and executed along with their children (the usual way, historically, to prevent them or their heirs from ever regaining power).

Military rule is also known, historically, as martial law. Here we see the underpinnings of the beast's rule over property, by which he seizes and takes what belongs to anyone and distributes it to whomsoever he wills. Notice also that it is the commander of the army who is in control over everything and everyone.

Blackstone's definition of martial law:

"Martial law is regulated by no known or established system or code of laws, as it is over and above all of them. The commander is the legislator, judge, and executioner...."

In other words, the commander in chief exalts himself over all other authorities, powers (including Congress and judges in all courts), or "mighty ones" on earth! And herein we see the true source of the coming beast's claim to rulership over all nations on earth (including the United States), which by necessity would mean the eventual suspension of all laws and civilian authorities, or at the very least a military presence and control over them.

Bestial law is, in fact, military or martial law, which in truth is no law at all, only the arbitrary will of a dictator in charge of a military force of occupation. This is nothing more nor less than martial law raising its ugly specter even in times of relative peace. Of course any "national emergency" -- or pretext and pretense thereof -- can be used as the excuse to impose such draconian decrees at any time.

Believe it or not there is an established precedent, beginning with President Lincoln, in America that sets the stage for just such a military/chief executive coup over all branches of the government, and in fact over all Americans, which the courts in their infinite stupidity have failed to overrule as unjust and unlawful (unconstitutional), when applied anywhere outside the limited realm of the executive branch's true authority and reach.

That vehicle is known as "executive orders," which a president issues and -- without the approval of Congress, or the will of the people -- have often attempted to establish broad and sweeping authority over every nook and cranny of life in America, whether federal, state, county, local, governmental, military or civilian in nature. This is nothing more nor less than martial law raising its ugly specter even in times of relative peace. Of course any "national emergency" -- or pretext and pretense thereof -- can be used as the excuse to impose such draconian decrees at any time.

Only a true would-be dictator would declare justification for such sweeping controls and over grasping authority in peace time. We now have such an individual occupying the "highest seat of authority" over America, although he is a foreigner and not constitutionally qualified to sit or act as a President of the United States, who recently issued an "Executive Order" on March 16, 2012, titled "National Defense Resources Preparedness."

This flaw (false law) purports to authorize a sweeping takeover by what is, in effect, a putative "chief executive" coop over all food and farm supplies, implements of husbandry, food sources (farms), processors, storage and distribution facilities (your local grocery included), means of public and private travel or transport, stored foods (including everything in your home cupboard), seeds, all water resources (including privately owned wells), labor, metals and all their mining and production facilities, etc., even in peacetime!

This is nothing less than a pretext -- under the guise of controlling all commerce -- setting the stage for a bestial power, contingent only upon another "national emergency" big enough to "justify" a dictatorial seizure of everything and everyone in America, thereby swiftly spreading its bestial tentacles from there over every other nation on earth!

Admiralty is the war-time or "national emergency" equivalent of maritime law, which is brought inland under assumed contracts that deal with this form of contractual law, much as the beast power of Revelation 13:1 arises out of the sea, where it joins the beast out of the earth (governmental deception, embodied or empowered by the judiciary or courts, enforcing the religious-like "patriotic" awe, reverence and worship of supposed government supremacy in all things; verses 11-12), in trampling the rights of we the people under their bestial hob-nailed heels!

The bestial government that arose from the sea (Revelation 13:1) is evidently a symbol for a great maritime commercial power (Revelation 18:17-19), and the covert judicial system that now exists in America, in the guise of the Uniform Commercial Code; which is said have arisen from the old law of Admiralty, brought inland by means of fraudulently imposed commercial contracts, in the form of birth certificates (in which newborn babies are unwittingly pledged as chattel to the federal government, via state governments, as collateral for the national "debt"), and "Social Security," the Postal "Service," "drivers" licenses (which are strictly for the commerce of transporting people or property "for hire," i.e. as a transmitting utility), "certificates" of title, by which the state now claims ownership interest, returning only a temporary, revocable, equitable "ownership" title or interest in the chattel or property, and numerous similar schemes at national and local levels of government; all of which is earmarked by the straw man, ALL CAPITAL LETTERS "name" substituted for your name on all government documents.

The moral code as given through Moses sets forth the conditions for humanity's relationship with their Creator and with each other, and no substitute, not even one masquerading as superior or prior to this law (but in fact, which came through Nimrod and ancient Babylon -- such as the wicked "Noahide" law now embraced by presidential fiat of "executive order," which will once again enforce beheading) can ever take its place, or prevent justice from prevailing in the end.
