

How To Collect $500+ "Secret Paychecks" As A Freelancer... Without Leaving Home!

Housewife Discovers A Simple Money Strategy That Shocks Her Loving Husband (And Makes Her Girlfriends Jealous)

You've just stumbled upon a simple way to collect extra cash that most people will never know about (or how to get started in). But it's legal, it's ethical, and it's like getting a secret paycheck.

And, it's definitely not one of those gut-punching, life-stealing scams... like filling out surveys. Or so-called data entry. Or trying to get cash from Google. Yeah right!

This is different. It's honest. It's for regular people, like you and me.

Laura Pennington
Professional Freelancer

And the best part?

You get money by typing words into your computer. How much you get from the computer is totally up to you.

Are You Looking To Get Side Income - Finally Enjoying What Really Works?

I think you'll love the proof that shows these secret paychecks are life changing.

Phil was depressed and beaten down. His nest egg had run out. He couldn't get a job at the local greasy spoon restaurant just around the corner. Local college kids even took all the dishwashing jobs.

But then everything changed. By typing simple words into his computer Phil made enough to cover his rent, and plenty more, in his first month alone.

And then there's Emily. Her manager treated her like a cockroach. She was humiliated and teased. That Boss From Hell sent her home crying more than once.

But then, after just one day, Emily scored her first secret paycheck. A client with money paid her to write words into a computer because he had too much work. He needed her help. She made money and she was hooked.

There's a lot more money too. And, it's true that I'm revealing the secret. It's right in plain sight. Have you already guessed it?

"I discovered a money strategy that even works when I'm sitting on the beach..."

Hi, my name is Laura Pennington.

In today's exciting note I'm going to share a little known strategy that gets a meaningful side income from home, or the local coffee shop, and even on the beach. It requires only you and a computer. You could even do this from the library or your friend's apartment.

I know you've seen all the promises out there. They tell you about the side income, staying home with the kids, walking around in your pajamas and pink bunny slippers. They promise everything to the moon and back.

Heck, maybe you've tried that stuff. You know, the paid surveys, doing Google ads, mystery shopping. Maybe you've even filled out some of those surveys, or set up stuff on Craigslist, and all that.

But I know it was hype and it ended up being a garbage bag full of lies.

I know you tried, and it's not your fault.

And if that stuff worked, you wouldn't be here. Those greasy snake oil salesmen are as twisted as Wall Street bankers and fat cat CEOs.

And me? Well, I started just like you. I was sick and tired of the fake claims. Dead ends. False starts. Not to mention my friends whispering behind my back, and how my husband would just look at me with those eyes. The disappointment was hard on me. I was letting people down. And I'll come back to that. I promise.

How Much Do You Want to Make?

First, what matters is that I found a way out. A relief, an answer, and truth. I'm so eager to share something real with you. Something that gets you a real side income.

Women (and men) all around the world are using this strategy. In as little as one hour per day, or just a few hours on the weekend you can enjoy $250, or more. There's so much demand. And there's more demand every day.

Imagine taking that luxury vacation. Picture adding some extra padding to your checking account. And even getting an extra $50 in your pocket on top as a bonus. Never worry about that bill that snuck up, and lands in the mail. You know the one. Happens to us all.

But the best part? You can say goodbye to the gut-wrenching stress.

Imagine life without a soul-crushing commute to a job that drains your life. Never be anxious again. And you get to hug your kids, a lot.

OK, OK, am I talking about a push-button, zero work, ten second miracle? Ha! I wish. There's no magic here. Of course not.

And when you read the rest of this note, and discover this source of legitimate side income, you're going to smile from ear to ear. You're going to do the happy dance.

Imagine seeing an extra $124 land in your account. And then $573. And then $1,488 more.

But I'm getting ahead of myself.

Desperate, Afraid, Burned Out...

Before I get to that, and reveal this side income, do I have your permission to explain how I stumbled onto this side income strategy?

Back in 2011, I was working 16 hours a day. I was a burned out inner city teacher in Baltimore, Maryland. The kids threw spitballs, had no respect and simply didn't care. The administration was worse. The paperwork was stacked two feet high around me. My life was getting choked out of me. I was desperate. And afraid.

I did what we all have done. I typed "how to make money online" and got sucked into a lot of scams. Completing surveys for money, entering contests for grocery store gift cards, and even mystery shopping.

I gave it try. But, my gut told me something wasn't right with these so-called opportunities. I did the work, downloaded the PDFs, and watched the videos. Read, listened, watched. Then I found out to make all this stuff work, you have to spend a lot more money, or pull friends and family into these life-sucking tar pits.

I was embarrassed. I felt like a failure.

Nothing worked and I cried myself to sleep more times that I care to admit. The shame was painful, down to my bones. I was close to hanging it up. That feeling of dread knotted up my stomach, and that sour taste filled my mouth.

"I was all tied up in a giant knot..."

When my family looked at me, I looked so gray. You could see the puffy purple bags under my eyes. I was a wreck because the life was drained out of me. I felt defeated, let down, cheated, discouraged and lied to.

My husband's job was enough, but the bills kept coming. My family was burned out and everyone was eager to get extra cash. But I was so ready, and so eager to treat my family right. To contribute, and add money into the bank account.

I wanted to be the best mom and best wife.
But I just ached all over.

I mean, I tried it all, with those surveys, data entry, Google ads, mystery shopping. All I wanted was some extra cash for the kids.

They needed new boots. And I wanted to surprise everyone with a fun little meal using some of my side income. It wasn't too much to ask.

I didn't share any of this with my husband but he knew it all in his heart. The dirty little secret is that my eyes would fill up, and I'd almost cry thinking about getting in the car at 5:30am to head into work. Without helping the kids get dressed, or with their lunch. Abandoning the family to do the day job that I hated.

And my husband, all alone in bed, snuggled up back home. All cozy, while I would have to jump into a coffin with wheels. I couldn't take it.

Not to mention missing out on the kids growing up. And on top of it all, there was the day care, and that added expense.

As I hung my head in thought about this, the the phone rang. It shook me up. It was my girlfriend Shelly.

The Two-Minute Coffee Shop Miracle!

We went to the coffee shop, we talked about our kids, but then Shelly reminded me of something peculiar. It stuck out. She said that I cared about people and that I wrote great emails. I thought that combination was kind of strange.

But Shelly got really excited. She reminded me that I did pretty well in creative writing and that I got work done on time. She said, "You know, a little bit of passion for writing and getting work done on time, that's a big deal! People these days aren't like you..."

What Shelly said changed my life. It shook me. A light bulb went off.

I swear you could see it glowing above my head. She was an angel that day. Divine intervention, maybe?

Now at first, I started looking into writing for print magazines, and newspapers, and all that old school stuff. That was totally a false start. But everything happens for a reason, right?

This was the light at the end of the tunnel. The glimmer of hope.

I dug into everything about writing words into a computer for money. I found as many clients with money as possible. Who were they? What did they want? Where do they hang out? I was a total mad scientist. I could have been wearing safety goggles and a white lab coat.

THE MONEY VOLCANO

The most important thing? This was real.

I kept seeing $150, $500 and even $1K for putting words into the computer. It was clear. All I needed to do is type what clients with money want, and need. Every day, every week, every month.

Shelly triggered a volcanic explosion when she told me that just hitting deadlines and writing some words is THE key. Boy, was she right. It unlocks the extra income treasure chest.

Shelly's offhand comments and my burning curiosity created a real opportunity. I could finally get real money for my kids, and the whole family.

“...Magnetic Cash Machines”

Here's what this strategy is all about.

To generate $150 to $300 per day, on demand, all I need to do is log into a few web sites and create my Magnetic Cash Machines. That's what I call them! I find these projects where people with money desperately need content for their blogs. Or, they need short reports, or whitepapers. Simple!

Now get this. It works for all kinds of content. My Magnetic Cash machines attract exactly the right clients for these projects. I don't have to deal with rude people, and there are no phone calls, and it's totally set up on my time. On my schedule.

And you'll love this. My first attempts at getting this side income were terrible. Still, I went from being saddled with guilt, worry and debt to scoring one project after another.

I get paid according to how much content I pump into the computer and the projects. I also get paid for the type of words I write.

I'll explain how I do that in just a minute.

It's just so important to understand that I don't have a professional writing degree, I don't have experience with print media or book publishing. I'm a very good writer now but really my two secrets are hitting deadlines, which I usually set, and writing content people want to read.

My First Client With Money... Paying Me In 3 Days!

With my first set up, I hardly knew what I was doing. But I still landed that client in just 3 days, and he was so happy. In fact, I did a lot of projects with him. Great money, and it was steady, month in, month out.

This was all without an English degree. And no previous experience.

I never expected this side income to grow into a full-time income.

I'm so happy that I gave myself a chance to make money and be free, despite starting out a bit skeptical. I mean, I figured it had to be true that there must be legitimate side income programs.

There are plenty of scams but this changed everything for me.

You write some words, save that file, and upload it to the member's area. There's no fancy software or anything tricky. I'm all thumbs with technology so if I can do it, you're safe!

One problem is that this is so addictive. It's easy to get hooked, because it's fun and you see real money coming to you.

DREAM BIG

Imagine dropping off the kids at school or daycare, running home, logging into a few web sites, and feeling that rush. The Magnetic Cash Machines you set up to attract the best projects and ideal customers with money are so awesome.

Now, not everything is going to work perfectly. Not every project is right for you. Not every client is going to "fit" with how you get cash.

I mean, some clients want short reports and others want longer reports or whitepapers. Some want or require special knowledge. If you have those skills or experience, great! But if not, there's so much opportunity it's almost crazy.

The #1 Reason Why I Can Share This SECRET With You Today

In fact, you might be wondering, how can she share all this? Won't this become saturated? Will it stop working? The great news is that the demand just keeps going up. The reason is that the internet keeps growing and growing. Think of all those web sites that need your words.

And those customers with money that love your content will usually order from you again and again. This can be incredible, and consistent. In fact, I believe that this could be THE opportunity that helps stay at home moms around the world.

No more surveys, or schemes, or mysterious stuff.

Just get written content into the computer for clients with money. Small businesses are especially desperate.

I want to change the world. I am passionate about stay at home moms like you and me looking for the truth, and really anyone who needs side income.

Who else wants relief from the bills, the credit cards, the loans?

Plus getting through the birthdays, the holidays and especially Christmas? We can all use help there. And how about the vacations we've earned?

A few hundred in a month changes everything. And a few thousand is like a golden parachute... and that's why I put my heart and soul into this complete program anyone can pick up and do.

I earned over $100,000 last year as a full time writer. Even when I started part time I quickly was getting $750 to $1,000 every month.

Works Best For People Just Starting Out (And Those Who Have Failed Before!)

Anyone can do this. It's just writing using a simple system for the right people. Plus there are so many types of words you can type, in different markets, on all kinds of topics. There's so much demand.

My income from writing is what made me realize that I could create a course for people just like you and me. Ordinary folks.

Imagine getting paid $500 or $1,000 or even $2,000 for a letter like this one you're reading.

I just think it's so cool that your writing style doesn't matter. Someone wants you. Your exact words don't matter as long as people want to read what you write, and I can easily solve that for you. Natural writing, like typing an email to a friend, or posting a few sentences on Facebook, is often good enough.

You don't need a college degree in this stuff, and you don't need experience to get started. Especially because of what's in the program. Zero training is required for most of your content.

The opportunities are endless for short blog posts, email content, social media postings, whitepapers, articles and more.

Why Right Now Is The Best Time To Get Started

And don't forget, this just keeps growing and growing because the internet is growing.

More and more clients with money are moving online. They want to focus on their business. They need you and me to give them content. It's a simple trade. They get content and we get side income.

Imagine $250, $500, even $1,000 per week for a few hours of work here and there, and totally on your schedule.

I want to share how this Content Cash is created (almost) out of thin air. I want to give you access to the entire universe of spare cash from words you type for clients with money. I want you to follow in my footsteps and liberate yourself. Get my personal blueprint and succeed. I know you can do this too. Anyone can.

That's why I'm proud to introduce...

My Freelance Paycheck

CLICK HERE TO ACCESS

My Freelance Paycheck is the only income strategy anywhere that reveals how people like you and me all over the world are making part-time and even full-time income by typing and uploading content.

It pulls back the curtain on a secret world of nearly endless demand for your words, while having a really wonderful time, and getting paid well.

With My Freelance Paycheck by your side you can do this, even if:

- ✓ You don't have any formal writing education or special college degree
- ✓ You don't have any previous work experience with writing or online content
- ✓ You don't have special insider contacts, confidence or know where to start

And don't worry if you've failed before. Or if you got sucked into half-baked snake oil products. We've all been fooled, but those problems are gone forever, starting today.

I want you to imagine finally having your hands on a legitimate way to get side income, with deposits flowing into your bank account. $150, $250, $500, or more.

"I've got your back..."

No training, no confidence, no connections? No worries, no problems!

The program has you covered.

It's like you get a direct download into your brain of exactly what to do and how to do it. From me, to you. But there's practically no learning curve.

And you'll see why using My Freelance Paycheck is quickly becoming the #1 way to earn side income for stay-at-home moms, and really anyone including men. I know you feel the excitement about this fresh way to earn money online.

Listen up, because your typing skills are way less critical than simply meeting deadlines and writing content that people want to read. Clients with money are starving to death and just want to sink their teeth into new content that you type.

They pay up, big time.

SPEED!

Of course, I would never leave you hanging. I've got all this covered inside. You'll master it in no time at all.

And how to find exactly who's spending the most money on content, and looking for help. Know who to talk to, and what to do.

All this includes the right web sites you need to visit. Plus how to scale up and get more done in less time.

You can stay small and collect hundreds per week. Or, you can go big and pull thousands per week. Up to you and what your family needs.

If You Can Write An Email To A Friend... You've Got Enough Skill To Get $500 Per Week

What matters right now is this.

You've got to remember that this works even if you've struggled or even failed previously. Those guys failed you, and it's not your fault. But they caused the failure, not you.

Fortunately, the My Freelance Paycheck strategy is built on concrete action steps, a real legitimate foundation that you feel is right in your heart.

In fact, because you have probably seen some of those false systems, and maybe you've tried them, you know that My Freelance Paycheck is different. You feel it.

And it works if you don't type too fast. You don't need any special degree, or technology.

In fact, in many ways this is better for beginners who can follow instructions closely and not overthink.

Even if you don't like your own writing, there are plenty of customers with money who will love you. Some have even sent me flowers and chocolate. Don't tell my husband!

The "Zero Boss" Life

Oh, and something critical you need to know. If you lack willpower, and you don't know if you have what it takes, just remember I am highly confident. I've got plenty to share with you. I believe in you more than you believe in yourself. With My Freelance Paycheck, anything is possible.

Let me show you how lucrative "Zero Boss" side income is created, and how it feels.

You're using a computer and you're typing. In fact, you don't even need your own computer since you can use any computer at all. From the library, a friend's laptop, or the family computer.

I know you're excited. I can see it in to your eyes. They are bright, wide open. And, you're leaning into this. I know because I've seen this with my girlfriends. They even start to breathe faster, and talk faster.

That's because this is real. It's not a weird multi-level, nag-your-friends, sell-your-family scheme. It's not some weird techno-jargon biz opp, scheme, or wacky loophole that only a pimple-face teenager would understand.

You're not going into this blind. There's a strong sense of trust here. I feel it and I know YOU feel it, because I'm not pulling any punches, and there's no B.S. here.

Here's Exactly What You Get With My Freelance Paycheck

I've been scammed. It makes me angry, even sick to think about. Those blood sucking parasites. That's exactly why My Freelance Paycheck shows you...

- ✔ Where to get the very best typing and content jobs
- ✔ How to get started fast and with loads of confidence
- ✔ Why you'll rapidly gain an unfair advantage in 1-2 days

- ✓ How to set up any laptop or computer for easy and fun writing
- ✓ How to set up your magnetic profile and pull in clients with money
- ✓ Where to get going first and then how to grow with great clients

This is the way that “they” are loading up PayPal with $150, $250, $500 and even $1,000 deposits each week.

How much would your life change with even one small deposit?

Well, it'll probably be the most money you've ever made online to start with, and it's up, up and away from there.

And it's all very dramatic. The flood of praise, the jealous eyes and head held high, because of your real financial contribution to the family. Shoes, vacations, dinners. Finally a chance to live a little. Relief.

Let me show you how. I'm here for you because I invest in people who invest in themselves. That's just smart business. And I attract intelligent people.

WARNING: This Is So Much Fun It's Addictive!

If your strongest desire is a nice flow of side income then you need to enroll now.

This is not pie in the sky, or fantasy. We've had enough of the scams and the cheaters. This isn't network marketing but just an honest mother talking with another honest person who deserves this. That's you!

I do have a warning right now. Although I love writing and I have so much fun typing words into the computer for money, I take My Freelance Paycheck very seriously. It's part of me, you know? So this just isn't for everyone. I don't help the “make money while you sleep” crowd. That's not what this is about. Leave now if that's you!

Let's be honest, that's garbage. Unless you're a millionaire you don't just get money out of thin air. You might not be ready to put in a few hours per week because it requires a little bit of focus.

I've been super honest and I'm feeling vulnerable here, because some people won't buy. But, to get side income you have to type some words into the computer and you need to hit deadlines.

What's Even Better Than All The Extra Money You Will Make?

What I can guarantee is this.

When it comes to extra side income by writing a few words, on your schedule, with clients you love, My Freelance Paycheck is the best. In fact, it's the ONLY program. It's as good as it gets.

And it's up to you where you make your money. It can be in the home office, kitchen table, back porch, bedroom, or wherever. In fact, why not throw on some headphones and tap a few keys at the coffee shop, with a cup of tea.

This is about your life and your ifestyle. Your rules!

There's no “showing up on time” and only “deliver on time” to friendly clients with cash. And a little known secret is that you often set the deadline. If they want a rush job, maybe you'll take it, but you can get a premium. See how you're empowered? I'll admit it. Sometimes it just feels good to pushback.

Forget punching the clock. Leave behind that cramped Dilbert cube. Walk away from the smells, and whispers, and noise. Skip the commute, unless walking 23 steps from your bedroom to your desk counts.

Oh, and your family gets you back. The real you, back in their lives, meals, sports, movies, events, and more.

This is life on your terms, with no worry about childcare, carpooling, fretting about who's doing what and where. No more trying to be an octopus, with 8 arms, struggling to balance those spinning plates.

You've got a blueprint. The way. The map. The game plan. What's it worth to your family to come back to center, whole, aware, and vibrant again?

This is an upgrade on life, an injection of true freedom, and do you see the cash coming in? It's not just one secret paycheck. Oh no, it's deposit after deposit, right where you need it.

Can I Give You Access For FREE?

I know we've spent some time together now. But it still looks "too good to be true" maybe, right? I knew you'd say that. In fact, I'd say the same thing.

So let's fix that. I've got a backdoor set up, just for you. We're in this together.

And that means we need to get this in your hands for FREE. I've got a way to make that happen that you'll love.

Before I explain how that works, listen to people who live the My Freelance Paycheck way, just like you'll do.

It's almost like how a video game "cheat code" works. Or, maybe when you get that one "secret" ingredient that grandma uses for her best sauce.

PROOF!

With My Freelance Paycheck it's not just me whom you get to gain the best secrets from!...

I've assembled a team of DOZENS of other successful freelancers to share THEIR best secrets as well. I've distilled these down into actionable gold nuggets inside the program.

"I have made approximately $7500 in the last six months with just my writing. I have freedom to set my own schedule and choose what jobs I take."

~ Julie

"I have earned approximately $20,000 from my freelance endeavors. I love being a Freelance Writer due to the flexibility, autonomy, and variety that it has to offer. I enjoy not being confined to the traditional 9-5 working hours, as well as not having to commute to a workplace every day."

~ Melanie

*"I choose my clients and set my own fees. I have the freedom to travel with my husband and visit with my children and grandchildren. And I love my career! My earnings to date:

~ Natalie

"I have earned just over $35,000, funding my travel lifestyle and giving me the time to continue to build up clients and contracts on the go."

~ Nicola

"I have earned up to $AU150K as a freelance writer... I have been able to move to a beautiful coastal town and buy a lovely, spacious home with rural views..."

~ Penelope

"Estimated Earnings: $3,500. I have been diagnosed with Asperger's Syndrome. Freelancing has benefited my life by allowing me to pursue an activity I know I am good at... I love to write scripts and stories in my spare time."

~ Steven

"I've earned approximately $12,000 since starting my freelance career... I love working with people, but being able to walk away from less than ideal relationships. The variety keeps me stimulated and constantly learning – and getting paid to read and learn!"

~ Samantha

Check it out...

There's Emma, who used the My Freelance Paycheck strategy to become her own boss and take control of her life. For years she put it off. She knew in her heart that putting words into the computer for clients with money would work, but she held off. Ironically, she waited because of her mortgage, household expenses and trying to fit in at work.

Here's what changed for Emma. She simply set up a Magnetic Cash Machine on the right web site, attracting the right freelance opportunity and the perfect client. One secret is that she got her passion in line with her skill. That first gig she got was in alignment with her heart's desire. Emma even got a very lucrative full-time work at home position because she used the strategy.

Freelance writing is great. You log in to a few web sites and check your jobs and your clients.

There's no weird technology. There's no greasy selling or cold calling, or anything uncomfortable.

Login, connect, and wait for the right jobs to come to you.

Emma wished she took action years ago. Now she's enjoying regular clients. Repeat business is great. And the amount she makes keeps going up and up.

She also says that she turns people away and only works with great people, on her own terms. And the work? Everything from articles to reports to brochures and leaflets. Nothing hard.

All that's needed is typing into the computer and hitting easy deadlines.

Paul's just another average guy who's enjoying his freedom now. When you're using the My Freelance Paycheck strategy everything falls into place.

It started rough because in 2004 he was struggling at his job. He was getting smashed to pieces because of his commute, the horrible weather, the fast pace of life and endless hordes of people pushing him round. He also was entering the middle of his life, middle of his career and just knew something was off.

Fast forward to today where he's enjoying the My Freelance Paycheck life. He moved to Spain and landed a great freelance writing opportunity. He's been working with them on his terms, at a great rate, for over eight years now.

He takes long walks on the beach. He takes long lunch breaks. He does what he wants when he wants. Paul lives life exactly how he wants.

And then there's Catherine. She writes words into the computer. She uploads the content and let's other people take all the credit for her work, and she loves it.

That's because she's getting well paid and she still enjoys being highly creative. She writes words for a living and that's a dream come true.

Zero stress and a life of bliss.

Catherine works with clients who are desperate for her fantasy and romance content. She writes longer stories and uploads them. And the money is incredible for doing what she loves even with short reports, like getting $80 writing about growing vegetables indoors. Or, writing about fun new gadgets.

Every day she gets the opportunity to work on new projects and with new people. And of course she is thrilled to work with her clients with money... again and again. Stability, excitement, flexibility.

Here's The Best Part!

Although you're seeing success after success, like Emma, Paul and Catherine, just remember that the My Freelance Paycheck strategy is for anyone. Even if you're just getting starting, it's all covered inside.

You'll know where to find the best clients with money. How to be super attractive to them, almost immediately. You'll love knowing how to scale up and write your own large secret paychecks.

If you've read this far, you clearly recognize this may be the fastest way to get started making money online, generating serious money as a freelance writer.

In fact, I've never seen anything like this. And like Emma, Paul and Catherine who you just met, I wish I had My Freelance Paycheck when I got started.

You are also nervous and I get that. You're thinking this is going to cost an arm and a leg, because it's proven and it's totally on your wavelength. You just plain get it.

Getting what you want, when you want, how you want, well, that's powerful. You own your time, your life, your freedom and it's money you deserve.

Even better is that you can put in as much or as little work as you want. Your income choice is totally up to you. And you're going to be happy when you see how much I'm offering My Freelance Paycheck for...

THE "WACKO WIFE" FROM BALTIMORE

Well, before I get to that, can I share something personal?

My friends tell me I'm crazy to do this, and my husband doesn't "get" why I'm doing this. But, my clients and customers have asked me for this again and again, so I'm giving you an extra special bonus chapter for free. It's kind of last minute, but I've added it.

It's called the Five Most Common Mistakes of Freelance Writers. These are the five mistakes I've seen over and over again, but I've solved this for you. You'll know what to focus on, how to attract the best clients, how to get top dollar and way more. I am giving you my best safety net.

Once you know the mistakes, you'll know how to collect at least $500 per week. But if you try this yourself, without my help... well, that worries me because most freelance writers "kill" $500 to $1,000 or more every week because of this.

But not you. In fact, you'll make extra money just by avoiding mistakes with my help.

When you don't make these mistakes the limits are removed. You get the money and freedom you deserve without the hassles or risks. Because you get the Five Most Common Mistakes of Freelance Writers, you're safe and you're clear for take off.
