BY CR STAFF JAN 18, 2022

It's difficult to pinpoint what exactly about fragrance makes it so romantic. Perhaps, it's the bouquets that conjure emotion or the ritualistic ways of application, however scents beyond anything else are a unique signature of their wearer. It's what you leave in a room long after exiting that begs the question 'what are they wearing?' - far more effective than leaving your number written on a napkin at the bar. Scent is in fact the strongest of the five human senses, so whether your shopping for yourself or a loved one this Valentine's Day, scroll through to check out the perfect olfactory autograph to impress during the season of love.
