Robb Morris cared for my mother in her late stage dementia.

He is strong, yet gentle. He safely did any lifting. And always showed her love and respect.

He lived in her home with her and often checked on her in the night and listened for any discomfort.

Robb is very in tune to healthy eating - for himself and her. He worked hard on feeding her foods that she took pleasure in eating with always keeping in mind nutritional value of low sugar, good fat and low sodium meals.

He interfaced with the in home medical team when they came - reporting food intake, general well being and any concerns.

Robb was very in tune with her moods and needs - either putting on the right music or tv show or just having quiet time for her.

He always spoke to softly to her.

He took care of household duties and reported any need for repairs to the family.

Awesome caregiver and great communicator. He's neat, tidy and quiet around the house.

I wholeheartedly recommend Robb for care for your loved one.

You are welcome to call me if you need any further clarification or would just prefer a phone conversation.
