What do you do when the world stops? It’s a question those of us who weren’t essential workers all had to answer this past year. “We didn’t want to end up looking back on 2020-21 and feel like we hadn’t accomplished anything,” says Parker. Bennett adds “And we wanted to feel like we were contributing in a positive way”. A decade into collaboration in life & music, “Every Song, a Love Song” explores the phenomenon of love between partners, friends, family, pets, and the love that exists between all of us living here on planet earth.
