How Americans All Benefits Our Nation's Homeschool Families

Family history is a great way to engage children in research,

Americans All uses a unique storytelling tool to facilitate legacy preservation, enable students to communicate better and help small businesses succeed.

Without this information, children will neither understand their roots nor develop their ethnic and cultural identity. In addition, storytelling brings communities together by sharing people's common histories, rather than their differences. Homeschool families, their relatives and friends participate as lifetime members in Americans All at no cost and receive a free, 3-month trial to our Social Legacy Network. Americans All members will find it easy to start creating their life stories. Our template only requires individuals to fill in their name, date of birth and a summary not to exceed 60 words. Additional story text, hyperlinks and photographs can be added over time.

Members and their families:

- Can create and archive life stories that are vital to passing on family members' knowledge and experiences to current and future generations. Legacy stories published on our Heritage Honor Roll can contain photos, and links to home videos and social media; can be updated any time, and can be partially password protected. Stories can be published in additional languages, providing an added educational opportunity for students.
- Receive more exposure for their stories by having them hosted on Americans All Legacy Partner homepages.
- Give students an opportunity to become proficient in written communication, a skill they need to succeed in college and the workforce. Moreover, if students help others less tech-savvy create a legacy story, they learn the value of community service.
- Acknowledge that storytelling can be a wonderful intergenerational bonding experience that builds compassion and understanding.
- Gain free access to the Americans All social studies resources used in more than 2,000 schools and libraries nationwide, a $500+ value. Americans All invests half of its membership fee to aggregate and distribute vetted, impartial resources. We leave all instructional decisions to homeschool families.
- Gain access to our Homeschool Resource Center, A Virtual K-12, Multimedia Social Studies Library.
- Receive a free 3-month trial subscription to our Social Legacy Network, which enables the family to get discounts on goods and services from our program partners. After the trial period ends, members can maintain their subscription for only $4 per month to continue receiving Legacy Partner discounts and more education resources. Importantly, we will not invoice you to continue your Social Legacy Network subscription after the trial period ends without your permission.

If a homeschool parent owns or operates a small business or practice, their entity can also benefit by joining Americans All for a 6-month, renewable membership fee of just $49. They:

- Receive free home pages on our Web site—one for each location and in multiple languages, if desired—to share information about their business or practice and advertise discounts for current and future Americans All members.
- Get 2 free 7-digit Gift Codes (worth $49) to publish stories on our Heritage Honor Roll. One of these codes can be used to create a story on the business or practice and the other to create a story on the owner or founder. Every renewal includes two 7-digit Codes to gift to staff or family members.
- Host, on their home page(s), legacy stories that customers, clients and staff have published on our Heritage Honor Roll to provide further exposure for these stories. By doing so, a loyalty club is created or expanded for the business or practice to better connect with current and prospective customers and clients.
- Are listed on both our Discounts and Legacy Partner landing pages, so Americans All members can identify Business Legacy Partners offering discounts on products and services.
- Can develop co-marketing strategies with other Americans All Business Legacy Partners.

Americans All members also gain access to our education resources and can subscribe to our Social Legacy Network for only $4 per month after a free, 3-month trial period.

For the monthly fee, Social Legacy Network members and their family can:

- Use membership cards to continue receiving discounts on goods and services and other benefits offered by program partners.
- Electronically access the expanded Americans All collection that includes new ethnic and cultural texts and songs, period-specific posters and photographs, reference texts and grade-level-specific teacher’s guides.

Finally, by using a unique storytelling tool to facilitate legacy preservation, enable students to communicate better and help small businesses succeed, our program can continue its mission to support excellence in K–12 social studies instruction. We invest more than half of our membership fees to strengthen history and civics education, so all students are better prepared to participate in our nation’s democracy, economy and workforce.

Allan S. Kullen Businessman and Social Entrepreneur

Allan S. Kullen (February 20, 1942 -) Businessman and Social Entrepreneur

"Her name is Ester Baumgartner. Do you know her?" Allan Kullen had posed the question in a broken mixture of Hebrew and English to whoever would listen and could understand him. Allan had met Ester while on an archaeological dig at Masada in the Negev, Israel. All he knew by the time they parted ways was her name and the fact that she was staying in Tel Aviv. So, after finishing his work, he decided he would try to find her. He hitchhiked his way to Tel Aviv and, despite all odds, found her. It was not just Ester that Allan found, however. "The odds were none-to-none that an American speaking Hebrew very poorly could venture to a foreign city and find some girl he met for two weeks on a mountaintop while knowing only her name. If I

Although the education community, its appeal was limited to classrooms devoted to teaching social studies. With the national emphasis shifting to support STEM programs, his foundation could not secure investors to meet its goal of making these instructional resources available to the nation's 135,000 public and private K-12 schools and 800,000 homeschooled. Allan responded by forming a marketing and operations entity, the Americans All Benefit Corporation. To gain the revenue needed to meet the foundation's goal, he focused his efforts on one of the program's main elements—the Heritage Honor Roll. Under the new structure, Americans All has become a Social Legacy Network that "connects the dots between life, legacy, education and the American Dream." A Champion for Social History

Allan Kullen Businessman and Social Entrepreneur February 20, 1942 -

Allan Kullen was born on February 20, 1942, in Washington, DC, and grew up in the area. His father had success in the printing industry, so Allan chose to attend the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, PA, after graduating from high school in 1959. He graduated from its School of Printing Management in 1963.

To gain more business training, Allan then entered an MBA program at the University of California, Berkeley. During his first year, he met representatives of NBBS, a Dutch travel organization that organized student trips to Europe, and began putting out a daily newspaper for the eight-day crossing by sea. He also accepted an internship as a consultant for a printing company in Amsterdam. That fall, rather than returning home, he traveled extensively where, for the first time, he recognized the contributions that diverse cultures make to world history. Allan subsequently decided to enter the workforce rather than resume his schooling at Berkeley.

He began his career as marketing director for his father's printing firm, Kaufmann Press, Inc. When his father's company was acquired by a public company, Publisher's Company, Inc. (Pubco), he went to work for Pubco, first assisting with its acquisitions program and later joining its publishing division. When Pubco began to fail, Allan realized he needed to build a future where he could better control his own destiny, especially since he was now married to the former Diane Klein and they had two children, Allison and Todd. In 1974, he acquired the assets of a struggling printing company and formed Todd Allan Printing Co., Inc., which he ran until 2013. During that period, he grew the company through internal sales and roll-up acquisitions of eight smaller firms, at its peak achieving $16 million in annual sales and employing 127.

While working at Pubco, he observed that some of its large printing vendors also owned commercial educational properties, and he brought that manufacturing strategy to Todd Allan. He set up his own publishing company in the early 1980s by buying a program called The First Experience, which featured photographs and texts on the contributions that immigrants entering through Ellis Island made to our nation's development. At the same time, he was printing for the Coordinating Committee for Ellis Island, a similarly focused nonprofit group.

Drawing inspiration from his extensive travels and reinforcing his interest in history, Allan then founded and became president of the People of America Foundation and became co-developer of its social studies resources program, Americans All. The program includes printed texts and recordings, period-specific posters and photographs, and simulations and teacher's guides, all developed by a team of scholars led by Americans All co-developer Dr. Gail C. Christopher. More recent program components support

Americans All Social Studies Materials Free for Members ($500+ value)

Standard textbooks used to teach social studies are like encyclopedias in which facts follow facts and no sense of drama or story exists. Students discover that things happened, but rarely is it clear why they happened or whether it mattered. Often the result is that young people tune out the past. We aim to accommodate students' different interests and learning styles and keep them engaged.
