How Americans All Benefits Our Nation's Homeschool Families

Gain free access to social studies resources while creating and preserving forever a legacy story on an individual or your family.

Welcome Homeschool Families!

Many homeschool families find it daunting to prepare their children for a secular society while maintaining their faith-based values. It is often difficult and expensive for these families to access nonpartisan instructional resources in history and civics that are both accurate and free from unwanted biases. Homeschool students need comprehensive resources in this discipline to succeed in state and college testing.

Our 32-year-old nonprofit foundation believes in ensuring educational equity. We recognize that homeschooling is the nation's only education sector where the concerns and welfare of students and their families are identical to the interests and priorities of schools they attend. The lack of access to federal, state or local funding makes obtaining quality instructional resources even more problematic. Americans All's role as an aggregator and distributor of vetted resources that meet homeschool needs in social studies has improved the landscape. We leave all content, curriculum and instructional decisions to individual families and do not publish or share members' contact information.

Using Web-based storytelling, Americans All encourages individuals and families joining Americans All to record, share and archive their stories—in multiple languages, if desired—to demonstrate their ethnic, cultural and/or civic pride for the benefit of friends and future generations. Part of the story can be password protected. We invest more than half of the membership revenue generated by our legacy preservation component to improve K–12 social studies instruction for all students. History and civics are key to preparing students to succeed in our nation's democracy, economy and workforce.

The history of our nation is deeply tied to immigration, and ancestors of all Americans came here from diverse locations. Legacy stories share these experiences and offer insight, helping make history come alive for today's students. Moreover, by researching and writing legacy stories, students learn more about their own ethnic and cultural backgrounds.

Nonpartisan resources in our current collection includes:

- Texts on historical population groups, immigration policy and major points of entry;
- A 412-page timeline with multiple perspectives on events that have shaped our nation's history;
- More than 300 period-specific photographs and 5 posters; and
- A music CD with 22 original recordings of historic songs and a theme song emphasizing the importance of education to our nation's future.

Education is a lifelong process, so we offer members of Americans All a free 3-month trial subscription to our Social Legacy Network. After the trial period ends, the subscription cost is only $4 per month, and it includes access to our new resource databases and new ethnic and cultural texts, photographs and songs; additional teaching tools and homework help for K–12 students; and e-newsletters with money-saving tips. Moreover, we include a subscription to CollegeSave.

This organization helps parents of newborns to high school juniors gain free access to college tuition discounts, practical college savings advice, a personal college savings roadmap and experts for homework help. Through this program, families receive 250 points each month (each point is worth $1 in discounts) and can earn up to $52,000 in college tuition discounts at more than 385 participating colleges in 45 states nationwide. These discount points can be used for children, grandchildren and extended family members. Even if a family chooses not to continue their subscription after the trial period, they keep the 1,750 points they have earned. In 2017, students submitted reward points worth more than $80.1 million in tuition discounts at participating colleges.

Homeschool families receive a 50 percent discount on their membership fee when the “Homeschool” box is checked on the “Create New Account” page.

Schools can use their home page to describe their activities and to host legacy stories of past and current students, teachers and their families published on our Heritage Honor Roll. School Legacy Partners can access the Americans All resources, including ethnic and cultural texts, period-specific photographs and posters and a music CD. They can also create and share, for free, a group legacy story on our Web-based Heritage Honor Roll—in text and through photographs, school movies and other video and audio formats.

Join Americans All as a Homeschool Family

By joining Americans All for a one-time, tax-deductible discounted registration fee of just $24.50, you and your family receive valuable benefits, including the opportunity to create and update, at no additional cost, a legacy story documenting the life experiences and achievements of an individual or a group important to you—in text and through photographs, home movies and other video and audio mediums. Part of the legacy story can be password protected, and it can be published in multiple languages and include hyperlinks to other Web sites. The legacy story can be shared forever on our Web-based Heritage Honor Roll and on the Americans All home page of Legacy Partners. Moreover by researching and writing a legacy story, your children learn more about their ethnic and cultural background.

Importantly, once you join Americans All, you can subscribe to our Social Legacy Network for only $4 per month. As a thank-you for supporting our mission, the People of America Foundation, our parent nonprofit, gives you the first three months of your membership for free! Network members can access grade-level-specific resource databases with information that supports state history and civics content standards, and helps students meet state and college testing requirements. You will also get membership cards for discounts on goods and services and other benefits offered by program partners and receive e-newsletters with money-saving tips.

In addition, you also get a subscription to CollegeSave. This organization gives parents of newborns to high school juniors up to one full year of college tuition discounts, practical college savings advice, and a Personal College Savings Roadmap® and provides students with experts for homework help. During the three-month free trial period, you will earn 1,750 discount points worth $1,750 in college tuition discounts (each point is worth $1 in discounts). By continuing your subscription after the trial periods ends, you can earn up to $52,000 in college tuition discounts that can be used at any of more than 385 participating colleges in 45 states nationwide. These college tuition discounts can be used by children, grandchildren and extended family members. Even if you opt not to continue your network subscription, you retain the tuition discounts you earned during the trial period! In 2017, students submitted reward points worth more than $80.1 million in tuition discounts at participating colleges.

Our foundation invests more than half of membership revenue to support excellence in K–12 social studies instruction. This discipline helps prepare students to participate in our nation’s democracy, economy and workforce.

Welcome to Americans All

Thank you for registering for Americans All. By clicking on the “Create a legacy story for the Heritage Honor Roll” link on your Welcome Back page, now or at any time, you can create and permanently share a story that honors the accomplishments, contributions and experiences of an individual or a group important to you, at no additional cost. Legacy stories acknowledge that heritage and culture are rich aspects of personal or group identity, and they lend future generations knowledge and inspiration. We invest more than half of your one-time, tax-deductible $49 registration fee to support excellence in social studies instruction for all K–12 students. This will help ensure they are prepared to participate in our nation's democracy and increasingly diverse economy and workforce.

Keep in mind you can modify or update your honoree's legacy story at any time and at no cost. You can also share your legacy story on the Americans All home pages of our Legacy Partners. To do so, go to your "Welcome Back" page and click on "Edit my legacy story" under the "Actions" tab. If you create your honoree's legacy story in multiple languages, you must repeat this step for each version you create. If an organization you want to host your honoree's legacy story is not a Legacy Partner, click on the "Invite Family, Friends and Associates to learn about Americans All" link on your "Welcome Back" and send them an invitation. There is no cost for them to join the Legacy Partner Alliance.

Importantly, our announcements tool (which is located on your “Create Legacy Story” template) can be used before a legacy story is completed.

Moreover, as a lifetime member of Americans All, you are now eligible to receive additional benefits by joining our Social Legacy Network for only $4 per month. And, as a thank-you from the People of America Foundation for supporting its mission, the first three months of that membership are free!

Your Social Legacy Network Benefits include:

- Electronic access the Americans All collection that includes ethnic and cultural texts and songs, period-specific posters and photographs, reference texts and grade-level-specific teacher’s guides.
- Electronic access to grade-level-specific resource databases with information that supports state history and civics content standards, and links embedded in these databases to strengthen learning opportunities and facilitate interdisciplinary connections.
- Access to e-newsletters with money-saving tips.
- A free enrollment in CollegeSave. This organization provides parents of newborns to high school juniors up to one full year of college tuition discounts, and delivers practical college savings advice, a Personal College Savings Roadmap® and access to live tutors and other resources to help kids get good grades.

Even if you do not select to continue your network membership after the free three-month trial period has expired, you will still have enjoyed the benefits of our education resources as well as earned $1,750 in college tuition discounts valid at more than 385 top colleges and universities.

We will not invoice you to continue your membership without your permission and we destroy all payment information once your credit card has been approved.

Please Contact Us if you have any questions about your registration.

From this “Welcome Back” page, you can:

- Download your Social Legacy Network membership materials (25);
- Create your honoree’s legacy story now or at any time (26);
- Get help on creating and enhancing your legacy story (27);
- View the Americans All instructional resources (28); and
- View the Homeschool Resource Center, in development (29).

After designating a point of contact to manage their user account, organizations participate in our program as Legacy Partners, for free. They generate a home page(s)—in multiple languages, if desired—on our Web site to share information about themselves, better connect with their clients and customers, and demonstrate their commitment to strengthening their community. They can use their home page(s) to host legacy stories published by those important to them on their Heritage Honor Roll, thus providing additional exposure for these stories. Legacy Partners share discounts on goods and services and other benefits with Social Legacy Network members and other Legacy Partners.

Use this template to create your honoree's legacy story in English. Once it is published in the Heritage Honor Roll, use the link under "Actions" on your "Welcome Back" page to "Create a legacy story in an additional language."

If you want to create a memorial announcement before you create your honoree's legacy story, we first need some basic information on him or her. For all fields inside "Legacy Story Text and Summary Text" and "Print Version Headlines," type in the word "Later." When you are ready to create the legacy story, delete the word "Later" and insert the appropriate text.

Note: Each time you change your honoree's legacy story or a memorial announcement, you must click on "Publish My Story" or "Save My Work."

Allan S. Kullen Businessman and Social Entrepreneur

Allan S. Kullen (February 20, 1942 - ) Businessman and Social Entrepreneur

"Her name is Ester Baumgartner. Do you know her?" Allan Kullen had posed the question in a broken mixture of Hebrew and English to whoever would listen and could understand him. Allan had met Ester while on an archaeological dig at Masada in the Negev, Israel. All he knew by the time they parted ways was her name and the fact that she was staying in Tel Aviv. So, after finishing his work, he decided he would try to find her. He hitchhiked his way to Tel Aviv and, despite all odds, found her. It was not just Ester that Allan found, however. "The odds were none-to-none that an American speaking Hebrew very poorly could venture to a foreign city and find some girl he met for two weeks on a mountaintop while knowing only her name. If I and recordings, period-specific posters and teacher's guides, all developed by a team of people led by Dr. Gail C. Christopher. Although the program is primarily for the education community, its appeal was limited to classrooms devoted to teaching social studies. With the national emphasis shifting to support STEM programs, his foundation could not secure investors to meet its goal of making these instructional resources available to the nation's 135,000 public and private K-12 schools and 800,000 homeschools. Allan responded by forming a marketing and operations entity, the Americans All Benefit Corporation. To gain the revenue needed to meet the foundation's goal, he focused his efforts on one of the program's main elements—the Heritage Honor Roll. Under the new structure, Americans All has become a Social Legacy Network that "connects the dots between life, legacy, education and the American Dream." A Champion for Social History

Allan Kullen Businessman and Social Entrepreneur February 20, 1942 -

Allan Kullen was born on February 20, 1942, in Washington, DC, and grew up in the area. His father had success in the printing industry, so Allan chose to attend the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, PA, after graduating from high school in 1959. He graduated from its School of Printing Management in 1963.

To gain more business training, Allan then entered an MBA program at the University of California, Berkeley. During his first year, he met representatives of NBBS, a Dutch travel organization that organized student trips to Europe, and began putting out a daily newspaper for the eight-day crossing by sea. He also accepted an internship as a consultant for a printing company in Amsterdam. That fall, rather than returning home, he traveled extensively where, for the first time, he recognized the contributions that diverse cultures make to world history. Allan subsequently decided to enter the workforce rather than resume his schooling at Berkeley.

He began his career as marketing director for his father's printing firm, Kaufmann Press, Inc. When his father's company was acquired by a public company, Publisher's Company, Inc. (Pubco), he went to work for Pubco, first assisting with its acquisitions program and later joining its publishing division. When Pubco began to fail, Allan realized he needed to build a future where he could better control his own destiny, especially since he was now married to the former Diane Klein and they had two children, Allison and Todd. In 1974, he acquired the assets of a struggling printing company and formed Todd Allan Printing Co., Inc., which he ran until 2013. During that period, he grew the company through internal sales and roll-up acquisitions of eight smaller firms, at its peak achieving $16 million in annual sales and employing 127.

While working at Pubco, he observed that some of its large printing vendors also owned commercial educational properties, and he brought that manufacturing strategy to Todd Allan. He set up his own publishing company in the early 1980s by buying a program called The First Experience, which featured photographs and texts on the contributions that immigrants entering through Ellis Island made to our nation's development. At the same time, he was printing for the Coordinating Committee for Ellis Island, a similarly focused nonprofit group.

Drawing inspiration from his extensive travels and reinforcing his interest in history, Allan then founded and became president of the People of America Foundation and became co-developer of its social studies resources program, Americans All. The program includes printed texts and recordings, period-specific posters and photographs, and simulations and teacher's guides, all developed by a team of scholars led by Americans All co-developer Dr. Gail C. Christopher. More recent program components support

As part of their one-time $24.50 discounted registration fee, Americans All homeschool families can also create a shorten version of their online legacy story (up to 500 words), and print it in an 8½" x 11" format.

The story, which can also be created and printed in multiple languages, can include a portrait or an image and up to two member logos. It can also be updated at any time, at no cost, and all revisions are permanently stored and easily accessed.

Our existing instructional resources (33) are already being used in more than 2,000 schools and libraries nationwide.

Americans All Social Studies Materials Free for Members ($500 value)

Standard textbooks used to teach social studies are like encyclopedias in which facts follow facts and no sense of drama or story exists. Students discover that things happened, but rarely is it clear why they happened or whether it mattered. Often the result is that young people tune out the past. We aim to accommodate students' different interests and learning styles and keep them engaged.
